

Mrs. Mabel McCord, Boyertown RD 1, is experiencing a sight she'll probably never forget—the first look at her new daughter, two hours after birth. Cynthia, Mrs. McCord's second child, tipped the scales at 7 pounds, 8 1/2 ounces.

Memorial hospital nurse Margaret D. Rhoads shows Mrs. Edna Gibson, Bechtelsville RD 1, her son for the first time. The smile and sparkle in her eyes bespeak a joy that little Gene William will never remember bringing about. The sleeping bundle weighed 6 pounds, 1 1/2 ounces.

Her first child! And every feature of Mrs. Ethel Sterling's face reflects pure pride as she talks over the situation with her daughter, Patricia Ann. Nurse Rhoads holds the 5 pound, 14-ounce Miss. Mr. and Mrs. David Sterling live at 28 East Third street, Boyertown.

Howard Lee was wide awake for his first trip to mother. And while he scans a new world, Mrs. Anna Atwell, Spring Mount, gives her son a thorough maternal first-look. Howard weighed in at over 7 pounds.

JP Holds Man for Court Session Without Setting Bail

ONLY $182 OF STOLEN $400 IS RECOVERED IN SEARCH

Joseph Jenkins, 25, of 614 Beech street, who confessed a home burglary of $192, will be committed to Montgomery county prison this morning. He was held for Montgomery county court without bail last night by Second Ward Justice of the Peace Raymond C. Kelley after he admitted stealing the money from a closet in the home of Jesse R. Smith, 724 Beech street, on Wednesday.

Smith said $400 in cash was stolen from cigar boxes and an old coat in his bedroom closet. Jenkins, who admitted the theft to Sgt. Harold E. Hahn yesterday morning, said at the hearing he stole only $192. He vehemently denied taking any more than $192.

Police recovered $182 from Jenkins.

HAHN TESTIFIED he received a call to go to the Smith home to investigate a burglary at 4:37 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. When he got there he discovered the bedroom and closet doors had been forced open.

HE MUST FEEL FENCED IN

Careless Driver's Been Trained

Any motorist turning around on Schuylkill road in Kenilworth would be well advised to think at least twice before backing into the fence of Mrs. Sherman Hess.

By alertness and persistence, plus a pinch of luck, Mrs. Hess stayed right on the trail of a Pottstown man who she said has been less than eager to take care of the damage his car did to her fence.

The climax of her pressure on the reluctant motorist, whose full name and address she did not get at the time of the accident, came this week when she was walking on King street near borough hall.

Parked less than a block from borough hall, was an empty car that looked familiar. The more she looked at it, the more convinced she became that it was the one driven by the man who told her eight days earlier he would help of another policeman, North fix her fence, but hadn't been in touch with her since.

MRS. HESS hurried into borough hall and after some eloquent talking, persuaded a policeman to come out and assist her.

Hardly had they reached the car, when the fence-buster walked up to it.

"Is that the fellow?" the policeman was quoted by Mrs. Hess as saying.

"I said, 'Yes, sir.'"

This time, Mrs. Hess got the errand motorist's full name and address.

That night, when she got home, she found a section of new fence had been brought there. But, she saw, it was much flimsier than the sturdy wooden fence that had been damaged. Besides, nothing had been done about the cost of erecting the new fence.

Mrs. Hess said she enlisted the help of another policeman, North

Coventry Police Chief Daniel W. Guldin. She said he has assured her that she is entitled to have something better than a flimsy replacement.

Yesterday, she was waiting confidently for the new fence to arrive.

MAIN FLUSHING BRINGS GRIPES FROM CITIZENS

Crews Take Advantage Of Spring Weather To Clean Pipes

The Spring-like weather yesterday prompted the borough water crew to flush encrusted mains and brought a mild flurry of complaints from home owners.

One irate home owner, Pierce H. Ripka, 507 State street, asserted the water from the faucet looked as though it came fresh from the Schuylkill river.

He said it was dark in color and apparently full of mud particles.

Harvey L. Hines, construction superintendent of the water department, explained, "We were flushing the mains in the several sections. We wanted to get as much done as possible because of the nice weather."

"WE HAVE to do the job when it is above freezing. Mains should be flushed three or four times a year. We flush them when we get complaints. What happens sediments (Continued on Page Six)

Blocked Railroad Drain At Berks Street to Be Replaced

READING HIRES COMPANY FOR $10-12,000 PROJECT

The days of junior lakes at High and Berks streets every time there's a heavy rain storm there appeared near an end yesterday.

Contractors hired by the Reading company were moving ahead with the $10,000-$12,000 job of replacing a blocked drainway under the railroad embankment near there with a modern 90-foot steel tunnel.

The broken old drainway has been viewed by engineers as being at least one reason why water backs up onto West High street after a heavy rain.

In recent years, water has covered the highway frequently there, and the basement of Berks Sales company's big building at High and Berks streets has been flooded severely.

Yesterday, A. B. Taylor, job superintendent for Arco Drainage and Metal Products Incorporated, Baltimore, Md., which is doing the work, declared, "Within two months, I'd say, we'll have water running through it. I'll make a perfect drain."

WHAT'S BEING REPLACED are two big hollow boxes formed by slabs of stone, 24 by 24 inches. (Continued on Page Eight)

Veterans of Korea Deprived Of Vocational Training Here

By FRED C. SELBY (Mercury Staff Writer)

Pottstown veterans of the Korean war now are deprived of even the chance of getting vocational training in Pottstown because of the school administration's failure to apply for certification.

This was learned yesterday from the Department of Public Instruction in Harrisburg, from a Pottstown service officer for veterans and from veterans themselves.

Pottstown Vocational school has been certified for a veterans training program for World War II veterans.

For the training of Korean veterans, re-approval must be requested.

A spokesman for the Department of Public Instruction said that in Pottstown, "The superintendent of schools, (Dr. George A. McCormick) to the best of my knowledge and belief, has not made any request for re-approval."

The forms for re-approval were mailed to the superintendent the past September, he said.

Under the new Federal law affecting Korean war veterans, the schools are subject to greater restrictions than they were by the original GI Bill of Rights.

To get re-approval, the spokesman continued, the Pottstown school administration must fill out some long, detailed forms.

"And that," he said, "they have not seen fit to do."

THE WHOLE FUTURE of the veterans' school is at stake, it was pointed out by Harry J. Ginther, longtime service officer of George A. Amole Post, American Legion, since all but a small percentage of World War II veterans have used up their educational benefits.

The Pottstown veterans' school now has 38 veterans taking courses. This compares with the peak enrollment three years ago of 289 (some of these were not regular students, but veterans taking courses as part of on-the-job training).

At the Jan. 5 school board meeting, Dr. McCormick cited the steady decline in the number attending the school and predicted that by July the veterans' school would be ready to close.

Ginther agreed with this forecast. "I think they're going to close that place up at night."

The veterans' school is conducted at night. During the day, it is the vocational school for Senior High school boys.

Ginther said he brought the problem of Korean war veterans' education to the attention of the Pottstown administration.

Of the need for re-approval, he said, "I notified them about that several times."

Ginther said on behalf of a Korean veteran who wanted to be admitted to the school, he re-checked with the Veterans administration (Continued on Page Six)

Turtle Doves Come Here to Get Warm, Run Into 28 Degree Morning Chill

Two little turtle doves had the right to sing the blues yesterday.

They came all the way to Pottstown from the deep South (or wherever turtle doves go in the winter) to herald the approach of Spring and flew smack into sub-freezing weather.

But an amazing rise in temperature through the morning hours thawed them out and made them sing for joy.

Mrs. Helen Smith, 360 South Hanover street, South Pottstown, said she heard them singing outside her window yesterday morning and insisted they were a sure sign of Spring.

About 4 a. m. yesterday, though, Mrs. Smith or her turtle doves would have had a hard time convincing anybody.

A heavy frost covered everything and sluggish mercury didn't want to budge higher than 28 degrees over the zero mark.

EARLY MORNING WORKERS

went outside to find their cars covered with frost and the doors stubbornly frozen.

But at 9 o'clock the sun heard the doves and started putting on a show. The temperature rose from 23 to 34 in one hour.

Then the mercury continued climbing until an hour later it was up to 40.

By 11 a. m. the doves were singing duets in perfect unison as the thermometer registered another jump—to 46.

Coats came off and bikes came out as children romped the sidewalks around noon. There was no wind and pedestrians suddenly realized that after walking bent into the wind they could stand up straight and not worry about bare necks.

At noon, the mercury was up to 52 and still going up.

By 2 p. m. the turtle doves were singing like crazy. The temperature had risen to 58—only eight degrees short of the all-time record (Continued on Page Eight)

Membership Drive Planned by 'Army' To Make Up Deficit

In order to make up its operating deficit, the Salvation Army is going to conduct a membership campaign "soon."

That was the decision reached by members of the Army's advisory board which met in the Army Citadel yesterday.

The Salvation Army is faced with making up a deficit of $13,500 created by failure of the United Fund to realize its campaign goal the past Fall.

Six thousand dollars of this deficit can be financed by renewed solicitation of funds in banks, theaters, taprooms and other public buildings, the board predicted, leaving $7500 to be made up through memberships.

IN ADDITION to this, it was hoped to raise additional money to pay off a mortgage on the citadel and thus reduce the carrying charges created by the mortgage.

Board members yesterday authorized J. Russel Reifsnider, vice chairman, to appoint a committee to plan the campaign and put it into operation.

Station Is Checked

Reading company police made their first check of the company station in Pottstown since the announced war on loitering.

An investigator made the rounds at the station Wednesday night.

There wasn't a single loiterer at the big, high-ceilinged station at 9 o'clock last night or Wednesday.

Robert R. Zehner, captain of the company police force, announced Wednesday regular checks would be made of the station.

He said then, "Starting tonight I'll begin a campaign to (Continued on Page Six)

Ordered Deported Eighth, Ninth Grade Pupils to Hear Talks on Fields They'd Like to Enter

Pottstown's eighth and ninth grade pupils will have a lot of questions about the professions or trades they plan to enter cleared up for them soon by men and women who are presently holding down the positions.

On March 4 the annual Kiwanis-sponsored Career conference will be held at the Junior High School, William A. James, guidance counselor, said yesterday.

On that day 35 men and women engaged in 35 different occupations in Pottstown will talk about their jobs and answer all questions for pupils who want to enter those occupations.

The program will start at 4 p. m., James said. Beforehand, pupils will list the two careers they think they most want to enter.

THEY WILL then spend 30 minutes listening to and questioning representatives in those fields.

"There are several new occupations added this year," James said. They include the ministry, welding, pharmaceuticals and insurance.

"The occupations will include the professions and most of the trades, James said.

"Pottstown people are very cooperative in this project."

Optimism was a little more in evidence in rival camps last night after another day of negotiations between management and union officials of Firestone Local 336, United Rubber Workers (CIU).

A union spokesman reported "slight improvement" and a company official said, "We're still very hopeful that an agreement can be reached."

NATO to Spend 224 Million More

PARIS, Feb. 19 (AP)—Britain's Lord Ismay said today the North Atlantic Treaty council (NATO) had decided to spend another 224 million dollars on military buildings this year in West Europe.

This will be the second allotment of this amount approved by NATO for military construction during 1953.

Ismay, NATO secretary general, said, however, that the council has not yet solved the important problem of how to split up the cost among the 11 NATO members.

"We are trying to avoid the sordid business of bargaining around the table," Ismay said, as was done at the meeting of ministers in Paris in December. He said the 224 million dollars would be spent on more military air bases, jet fuel pipelines, communications systems and headquarters installations.

SEASONAL DROP IN EMPLOYMENT IS REGISTERED

But Number out of Work Below That of A Year Ago

A slight decrease in employment during January was recorded by the Pottstown office of the Pennsylvania State Employment Service.

But the decrease was a normal seasonal drop, Mrs. Margaret H. King, manager, explained, and is expected to continue through the rest of February.

According to reports received from 55 major industries in the Pottstown area, the number of persons seeking employment jumped 18.4 percent during January.

In December there were 563 applications, in January, 667. When compared with figures of a year ago, the situation looks vastly improved, Mrs. King pointed out. At that time there were 998 unemployed cases on file.

THE EMPLOYMENT outlook is bright, she said. Conditions should improve steadily for the next two months, with construction and metal industries showing the greatest potential for job openings.

The textile and garment industries also are expected to regain normal production employment, and several foundries that have been operating on a reduced work schedule contemplate full operations within the next few weeks.

At the end of January, there were about 200 job openings listed with the local office. The greatest need was for qualified office workers and skilled workers.

A breakdown according to ages of persons currently looking for work shows that the 21-to-34 age group is hardest hit.

In that group 224 are out of work. In the 35-and-over group, 150 are unemployed; 120 in the 55-64 group; 97 from 45 to 54 years of age; and 76 who are 21 or under.

Defense Counsel Charges Mayor Acted in Bad Faith

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 19 (AP)—The trial of two Clairton councilmen and a coal operator recessed today with the defense counsel halfway through a summation to the jury.

Defense Attorney Charles J. Margiotti told the jurors if they acquit Councilmen Caesar Ricci and Ernest Dequenne and coal operator Fred Fiore the trial costs should be assessed against Mayor John J. Mullen.

The State charges Ricci and Dequenne accepted $1000 bribes from Fiore, and promised to permit him to mine coal on city-owned land. The charges were filed on the basis of information furnished by the mayor.

Margiotti told the jury that Mayor Mullen's charges were made "to get rid of a political enemy."

Chester County Bar Asks Creation Of Orphans Court, 2 More Judges

Chester county Bar association has asked State legislators from the county to press for the creation of an Orphans court and the addition of two more judges.

The association of lawyers contacted State Sen. Thomas P. Harney and the county's three representatives in the General Assembly, Amos M. Leisey, William H. Ashton and William E. Brown to introduce the proposal at the current session of the General Assembly.

The county representatives were asked to prepare bills to enact the necessary legislation.

An additional judge in the Common Pleas court is needed to take the load of work off of the present staff, the lawyers claim. Establishment of a separate Orphans court with an additional judge also will help speed up court procedure, the Bar association reported.

THE RESOLUTION for the additions was introduced at the annual meeting of the Bar association the past month. A committee was appointed then to make a survey of the county courts and to submit recommendations.

At a special meeting of the Bar association the past Monday, the resolution was adopted on the basis of the findings of the committee.

Serving on the committee were N. Earl Wynn, W. Edward Greenwood, Walter A. Herley, J. Paul MacElreath and W. Perry Tyson.

In its report, the committee said Chester county is entitled to a separate Orphans court since the county population exceeds 150,000. According to a mandatory provision of the State constitution, a separate Orphans should be established when population exceeds that number.

The committee suggested the formation of an Orphans court would eliminate much of the overlapping in court procedure.

Even with an Orphans court in operation to lighten the load of the Common Pleas court, another Common Pleas judge will be needed in order to prevent work from backlogging, the committee reported.

Chester county now has two Common Pleas judges. According to the survey made by the lawyers committee, the volume of work for the two judges is too great and a backlog of work will be inevitable unless another judge is added.

Nationalists Capture Burmese Outpost

RANGOON, Burma, Feb. 19 (AP)—Kyukok, a frontier outpost on the China-Burmese border has fallen to Chiang Kai-Shek's guerrillas, Burma army headquarters sources reported today.

A trading center and customs outpost on the Burma side of the border, Kyukok is 150 miles north of Lashio. Customs and immigration officials fled to Lashio, the informants said, adding that some officials of both services were captured.

The Chinese Nationalists, who have been a source of embarrassment to the Burmese Government for three years, since they were driven out by the Chinese Reds, have recently whipped up their activities. They are now raiding Government outposts, military detachments and police stations, and preying on traders in the whole of Burma's eastern Kengtung state.

Casualties Are Revealed In Mau Mau Outbreak

NAIROBI, Kenya, Feb. 19 (AP)—The Government announced in the legislature today that 202 people of all races have been killed by the anti-white Mau Mau organization since the outburst of terrorism began the past Fall.

Law enforcement officials killed 122 Mau Mau members. The Government gave this breakdown of those slain by the Mau Mau: Europeans—nine, Asians three, Kikuyu (a tribe which supplies most of Mau Mau's membership) 177 and other Africans 13. Mau Mau members slay their own tribesmen for refusal to join Mau Mau and other reasons.

Navy Reveals New Carrier Attack Plane

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 (AP)—The Navy today announced the first flight of its AJ-2, an attack airplane "capable of carrying and delivering an atomic bomb from either carrier or land stations."

The plane took the air in Columbus, Ohio, and stayed aloft 63 minutes.

The AJ-2 is powered by two conventional motors and one turbo jet engine. It carries a crew of three and has an announced speed of up to 425 miles per hour.

The AJ-2 is the largest airplane ever built for operation from aircraft carriers, the Navy said.

PROCLAMATION

Whereas, the General Department United Church Women of the National Council of Churches has designated Friday, February 20, 1953, as World Day of Prayer; and

Whereas, the Pottstown Council of Church Women, and others are co-operating; and

Whereas, World Day of Prayer has been designated on an international, interdenominational, interracial basis to join the people of this world together in their "walk as children of light";

Now, therefore, I, William A. Griffith, Burgess of Pottstown, Pennsylvania, do proclaim Friday, February 20, 1953, as "World Day of Prayer" in the Borough of Pottstown, and call upon the people of Pottstown and the surrounding area to observe this day by accepting this as a personal invitation to attend some portion of this observance from 7:00 in the morning to 9:00 in the evening, with guided worship at 4:00 p. m. in the Children's Service at the First Presbyterian Church, and at 8:00 P. M. in the Community Service for Adults at the Emmanuel Lutheran Church. If the duties of some are such as to make this impossible, I urge them to pause in their work for one minute at noon, to ask that God give that light to guide us, courage to support us, and love to unite us. I further urge every church or business having bells, chimes, or whistles to sound them once or twice at 12 Noon for the observance of that minute of prayer.

Plans Made for New K of C Council

Groundwork will be laid for the organization of a Lower Perkiomen area council of the Knights of Columbus Tuesday night at 8 o'clock at St. Eleanor's Catholic school auditorium, Collegeville.

Thirty members who have shown interest in forming the council will meet to set a date for the exemplification of the first degree of the order.

BURGLARY HEARING—

were sprung loose. Paper money had been taken from four of nine cigar boxes in the closet. Silver in the other five boxes was not touched.

At 8 o'clock police arrested Jenkins and brought him to borough hall. Later he was taken to the scene of the crime by Hahn, Patrolman Thomas Corum and Motor Patrolman Paul I. Galloway.

He denied the crime, but was held in the borough lockup on suspicion.

Smith kept the money in the cigar boxes as change for his coal and wood hauling business which he operates in the afternoons and nights.

He is a day shift employee of the Bethlehem Steel company.

Jenkins said he entered the Smith home through the unlocked back door.

The 25-year-old thief was arrested for shooting a man in Georgia in 1948.

The hearing was held at 5:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

DAY OF PRAYER—

Rev. Dr. Harold Paul Sloan, Philadelphia pastor and author.

The service in Emmanuel also will include a procession of the massed choirs of all participating churches, led by the clergymen in the vestments of their denominations.

For children, there will be a community service in First Presbyterian church at 4 p. m., with massed junior choirs and individual children taking part.

Hospital patients will receive the invitation to prayer on their noon meal trays.

Rosenbergs Collect Papers for Book

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 (AP)—Condemned atom spies Julius Rosenberg and his wife, Ethel, are preserving correspondence between themselves and persons outside Sing Sing prison, reportedly with a view to publication.

An informant said today that letters and memoranda, sufficient for a book have been accumulated. The Rosenbergs are prisoners in separate wings of the death house.

Reports from the prison said a book on the Rosenbergs legal battle for freedom may be planned to raise funds. Publication of such a book has been under consideration, but whether it would be written by the Rosenbergs, or by some one in their names, has not been disclosed.

However, an escape warrant lodged by New Jersey is pending against him. He is being held there to await the outcome of the warrant.

In the meantime his son, a veteran of Korea, inquired into his father's parole status. Officials went to work and found that under a law passed in 1918 he was eligible for parole when he escaped back in 1920.

So, today his name was added to the monthly list of prisoners eligible to be considered for parole.

Pottstown Rotary Observes Birthday

Pottstown Rotarians celebrated their 35th birthday last night with a cartwheel-size cake, a guest speaker and greetings from several visiting district officers.

To Charles J. Custer, oldest active charter member, went the honor of cutting the huge cake after it was paraded around the Elks home banquet room.

The cake, which measured almost three feet in diameter, was topped by the Rotary emblem in blue and orange icing.

Custer, to whom last night's program was dedicated, is also a past president of the club.

He spoke briefly when introduced, recalling that the club was formed in 1918 with 34 members.

Guest speaker Edward T. Hall, headmaster of The Hill school, used as the theme of his talk, "Thirty-Five Years Ahead in Education."

The headmaster called for a return to "the moral values of 19th century education without sacrificing the vigor and richness of 20th century knowledge."

GREETINGS AND CONGRATULATIONS were extended to the Pottstown club by the Rev. Paul E. Schmoeyer, Kutztown, governor of Rotary's 26th district; Andrew E. Vaughan Jr., former district governor; and Daniel E. Bause, district governor elect.

Guests at last night's meeting included presidents of the other clubs in the Pottstown area.

Music was presented at dinner by Edmund Vechin, Philadelphia concert pianist.

Last night's program was presented by the committee of past presidents, of which George M. Longaker is chairman.

So, today his name was added to the monthly list of prisoners eligible to be considered for parole.

He is being held there to await the outcome of the warrant.

Worker Is Arrested In Stripping Shooting Of UMW Organizer

CLEARFIELD, Feb. 19 (AP)—Roger E. Davis of Phillipsburg was arrested today on a charge of aggravated assault and battery in the shooting of a United Mine Workers organizer.

The 48-year-old dragline operator at the Robert Bailey strip (surface) mine in nearby Grassflat pleaded innocent when arraigned before Justice of the Peace R. P. Neale. Davis posted $4000 bond and will get a hearing Saturday.

He is accused of shooting John Lonetti, 45-year-old police chief of Vintonville in Cambria county and a UMW local president. Lonetti is in serious condition at Phillipsburg State hospital with a bullet wound of the stomach.

The shooting occurred yesterday during a half-hour battle between pickets and unorganized coal miners employed by the Bailey company.

ARREST OF Davis followed questioning of several pickets today by Dist. Atty. Joseph Dague.

Pottstown's Prides

Another in the series of beautiful homes that make Pottstown warm

—Mercury Staff Photo

An attractive, useful vestibule is a feature of this home of Mr. and Mrs. John Megasko at 119 West Seventh street. The house was finished in the Autumn of 1950 by Donald E. Woodley, a Pottstown home contractor. Flanking the front door are thin glassblock windows which admit light to the vestibule. Along the vestibule is a big closet. Those two lanterns by the glassblocks give a cozy touch at night. Downstairs are the living room (at right), 14 by 15 feet; kitchen, and bath two bedrooms and bath. Upstairs are two rooms, one of them finished into a playroom for the children. Megasko is a machine operator for Firestone Tire and Rubber company.

Senate Probers Blast Racketeering At New Jersey Military Loading Dock

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 (AP)—Senate investigators today blasted what they called "a sordid pattern of racketeering, coercion, payroll padding and other types of vice" at a New Jersey loading terminal for military supplies.

They said such conditions apparently "are the norm in similar operations throughout the New York harbor area" and called them a "shocking commentary" on law enforcement agencies and labor union leaders.

In a report criticizing local politicians and the Army Corps of Engineers, a Senate Preparedness subcommittee said the Claremont terminal in Jersey City "was used as a dumping ground for ex-convicts, idlers, petty criminals, and other hangers-on who were friends of, or had influence with, racketeers and their political friends."

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), said that Dade brothers, a waterfront operator, obtained a $150,000 contract in January, 1951, to handle shipments destined for a hurry-up air base project in North Africa.

BY THE END of that year the cost had mushroomed to nine million dollars, the report said, with "exorbitant profits" for Dade brothers and subsidiaries.

When Senate probers working with other crime investigation agencies found payroll padding and hiring of waterfront workers by ex-criminals, the contract was cancelled, the report said.

It added the Government hopes to recover more than a million dollars through re-negotiation of the contract.

Meanwhile, the report said the Senate group learned that the Army had made another contract with Dade brothers for waterfront terminal services at Hampton Roads, Va., and urged close scrutiny of this contract.

Conditions at the Jersey City terminal improved under a new 1952 contract with the firm, the report said, but "some loafing and overstaffing continued."

The report blamed the Army engineers for this, saying they "gave full run to the racketeers."

Two Red Assaults Are Beaten Back On Western Front

SEOUL, Friday, Feb. 20 (AP)—Chinese Red troops twice assaulted an Allied outpost on the Western Korean front before dawn today under cover of a smoke screen but were beaten off in bitter fighting.

The Reds hurled 1000 rounds of artillery shells at the outpost near Bunker Hill to soften it up for their assaults.

The US Air Force crowned its second "double jet ace" Thursday as Sabre jets shot down two MIGs in dogfights just south of the Manchurian border. The fifth air force, which reported the toll, said a third MIG may have been destroyed. The fifth air force claimed a six-day score of 37 or 38 MIGs destroyed or damaged.

Allied losses are reported in weekend summaries.

ALLIED WARPLANES yesterday and last night pounded Red Korean targets from the front to the Manchurian approaches. The Air Force said its relentless raids have rubbed out most of the good targets.

Allied jet fighter-bombers hit a tank-infantry center near Pyongyang Thursday morning for the third time in two days.

B-26 light bombers followed up last night with raids on Red supply convoys and frontline positions.

KOREAN ALLIES HOLD MEETING TO PLAN ACTION

UN Members Chart Course At Hush-Hush Talks With Lodge

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Feb. 19 (AP)—Several courses of action on the Korean crisis in the UN General Assembly were explored today by the United States and 13 of its Korean combat partners at a hush-hush conference.

No decisions were reported and the host, ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., who did more listening than talking at the session, told newsmen later that "actions will speak louder than words."

Lodge and several delegates emphasized that the meeting showed the solidarity of the countries having fighting forces in Korea. In a brief statement, with the other delegates grouped around him for pictures, Lodge said:

"We have shown by our actions we really believe in the principle of collective security. We counseled today on steps to take in the future."

INFORMED QUARTERS indicated that some of the delegates are waiting with great interest to see whether V. K. Krishna Menon, Indian delegate who produced a resolution on Korea the past Fall, will bring to the assembly any information from Communist China which might break the long stalemate. The Assembly reconvenes Tuesday.

The delegates who met for almost an hour today did not fix a time for another session but it was expected they would meet again at the start of the Assembly or shortly after it meets.

They still have to hammer out a plan of action. Lodge took unusual precautions to preserve secrecy at the meeting. His delegation clammed up completely. However sources in position to know said that Lodge said he was new in his position as chief US delegate and that he would appreciate hearing the views of the other delegates.

Brownell to Pressure Tax Dodgers

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 (AP)—The Justice department announced today it will no longer allow defendants in criminal tax fraud cases to escape prosecution by pleading ill health.

Attorney General Brownell said the department will push ahead with all pending cases, leaving it to the courts to decide whether a defendant is or is not physically able to stand trial.

A lenient health policy under the Truman Administration, Brownell said, contributed to the charges made in Congress that the Justice department was "scandal-ridden."

"We have reviewed all tax cases where the question of health

Blizzard Sweeps Colorado, Wyoming; Stalls Traffic, Smashes Power Lines

DENVER, Feb. 19 (AP)—Colorado and Wyoming were bludgeoned today by the worst blizzard of the new year with snow continuing to fall during the afternoon under the lash of biting winds.

Blowing snow reduced visibility close to the zero point in some areas.

Highway traffic was reduced to a crawl, many schools were closed, telephone and power lines were smashed down and airline operations at Denver's Stapleton airfield, one of the largest in the nation, were badly snarled.

Temperatures were well below freezing although so far no subzero readings have been reported.

TWO DEATHS resulted from automobile accidents on slippery highways.

An 18-month-old boy, Gary Saruwatari, was killed when his father's automobile overturned on an icy highway in western Colorado yesterday. The baby's twin brother was hurt.

Earl G. Shultz, 39, McGill, Nev., mining engineer, died in a traffic accident west of Cheyenne, Wyo.

Ten inches of new snow fell at Lander, in west-central Wyoming.

Israeli Diplomats Leave Moscow for Homeland

MOSCOW, Feb. 19 (AP)—Israeli minister Samuel Elhashev and his staff left Moscow tonight. The party was given a sendoff by a large group of foreign diplomats gathered at the station.

The Soviet Union broke off relations with Israel the past week over the bombing of the Soviet legation in Tel Aviv.

Elhashev and his staff will travel to Tel Aviv via Leningrad, Helsinki and Stockholm.

PROBERS CHARGE "VOICE" OFFICIAL LEAKED SECRETS

Bradley Connors Denies Red Sympathy Claims

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 (AP)—The voice of America's policy chief was confronted today with a purported confession by a Chinese Communist spy that the official "leaked" secrets to the Reds during the postwar struggle for control of China.

W. Bradley Connors, the official involved, told investigating Senators that there was no truth to the charge. He also swore that he had never been a Communist or a fellow traveler.

Imperturbably chewing gum, Connors testified that at no time during his postwar service in China "did I favor the Communist regime."

Connors said his title now is assistant administrator for policy and plans for the international information administration of the State department.

HE EXPLAINED that his position made him "top man" on policy for the Voice of America, the agency which broadcasts the American point of view to all parts of the world.

During his testimony before the Senate's investigations subcommittee, Connors disclosed that the State department issued an order yesterday forbidding the use of any material by "controversial authors, Communists or fellow travelers" on Voice of America programs.

He testified that he was advised by the order of Carl W. McCordle, assistant secretary of state for information, but that he did not know whether it had been issued personally by Secretary of State of Dulles.

Officials Deny Minnesota A-Bomb Drop

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 (AP)—Canadian reports that three "cup size" atomic bombs have been dropped recently in tests in Northern Minnesota brought a swift denial tonight from the Atomic Energy commission.

Officials of the commission said flatly that the only place on this continent where atomic explosive tests are conducted is the atomic proving ground in Nevada.

In addition, John A. Dechant, director of public information for the Office of Civilian Defense, said the agency had no

Shipwrecked Family Is Flown to Safety After Crash Into Reef

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 19 (AP)—A prominent Nevada family, shipwrecked in the Bahama islands, was rescued and flown to Miami today none the worse for a perilous passage ashore.

Newton H. Crumley, 42-year-old Elko, Nev., hotel owner and cattleman, said he and his wife and their three little girls were "exhausted and looked a mess but we're all very happy to be alive."

They were aboard the 83-foot yacht Catita II, owned by Lawrence J. Holland, Renon, Nev., when it was blown onto a coral reef at Frasers Hog Key in the Berry island group last night about 30 miles northwest of Nassau.

Crumley, a member of the university of Nevada board of regents, said the Catita II had anchored for the night and the five members of the crew had made everything fast when the sea began acting up.

"It was rough and the wind must have been blowing 50 knots (about 57 miles per hour) when the anchor slipped and the yacht went aground with a hard crunching sound," he told a reporter on arrival here.

"I reached the Coast Guard at Norfolk by radio and told them we were taking quite a beating and might have to abandon ship."

Checks Check

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 19 (AP)—A holdup man had a complaint today when he failed to get any money at a downtown loan company.

A young woman employee told the man all the company's payments were made by check. "That's a helluva way to do business," he muttered as he backed out of the office.

WALKOUT CONTINUES

information of any atomic bombs being dropped in Minnesota.

The Canadian press, in a dispatch from Fort Frances, Ont., quoted E. W. Downward, civil defense director at International Falls, Minn., as saying the bombs were dropped within the past three months on a bombing range in that area.

However, the Chicago Tribune later reached Downward at International Falls by phone, and said he denied making such a statement.

Jelke Is Pictured as Tough Procurer

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 (AP)—Erica Steel, alleged cafe society madam, took the witness stand today in order to tab Minot (Mickey) Jelke as a hard-boiled, love 'em and leave 'em procurer.

"She's co-operating," reported assistant district attorney Anthony J. Liebler during a recess.

Meanwhile, general sessions Judge Francis L. Valente reportedly is ready to throw his courtroom open to press and public for defense testimony next week. He barred outsiders during the State's sensational testimony on high jinks in New York's smart set.

Defense attorney Sam Segal told newsmen he had received assurance from Valente that the defense testimony will be public.

This could mean a wide-open expose of the scores of closely guarded names of men—some of them old enough to be grandfathers—who bought the charms of 'teen-agers and other tarnished belles of cafe society.

THE DEFENSE has the right to bring up any name mentioned during the State's testimony.

Miss Steel, today's star witness, is a 28-year-old former dancer who came to New York from the West Coast in 1941 to pursue a career as a showgirl.

She found herself in a completely different role as a key witness in the nine-count vice case against Jelke, 23-year-old heir to an oleomargarine fortune.

The State contends Jelke left call girl Pat Ward in Miss Steel's apartment when he went to Florida the past year, with instructions to the alleged madam to "keep her bustling."

Miss Ward, 19, was one of three young playgirls Jelke was accused of forcing into prostitution at fees of $50 to $100 a night. He assertedly collected from $10,000 to $15,000 of her earnings.

The tall, copper-haired 'teen-ager, on the witness stand, pictured Jelke as the man who won her love, put her to work as a prostitute, then tossed her out when he was through with her.

Attendants Hold Valentine Carnation Bouquets in Wedding of Mary Ellen Herb and Joseph Deskie in Boyertown

Heart-clustered flowers surrounded Mary Ellen Herb and Joseph Deskie when they were married in St. Columbkille Roman Catholic church, Boyertown, by the Rev. B. F. Creamer.

White stock stood on the altar to which Miss Herb was escorted by her father, Thomas

Herb, Bechtelsville.

One hundred wedding guests heard bridal prelude music played by organist Loretta Covey.

Sheer marquisette was used in the bride's gown and veil. The full-length skirt extended to a train and the bodice was cut in a deep square to frame her neckline of pearls.

Pearl earrings accented her finger tip veil which fell from a small white crown.

She carried a Valentine bouquet of red-centered white carnations. Fuchsia was chosen by Mrs. Stephen Binczak for her role as matron of honor. Her satin bodice was covered by a bolero. Her skirt was full in matching net.

Pink and white carnations were grouped in a heart for her bouquet.

Sister of the groom, Helen Deskie, and cousin of the bride, Mrs. Howard Weller acted as bridesmaids. Their gowns were like that of the matron of honor though Miss Deskie wore a shade of yellow and Mrs. Weller was in green.

Their Valentine bouquets were of pink, yellow and white carnations.

Steve Binczak acted as best man. Edward Deskie, brother of the groom, and Thomas Herb, brother of the bride, acted as ushers.

Presiding over the luncheon reception to which more than 250 guests were invited was Mrs. Thomas Herb, mother of the bride. She pinned a white and pink carnation to her navy blue frock. White streamers decorated Washington House, Bechtelsville, for the occasion.

After their wedding trip for which the bride wore a navy suit with red accessories, the couple will live with the bride's parents until their home in New Hanover township is completed.

After her graduation from Boyertown High school in 1948, the bride was employed in the Doehler-Jarvis corporation office. She holds the post of auxiliary secretary to Keystone Fire company, Bechtelsville. She also is a member of Patriotic Order of Americans.

Her groom moved from Danville to Bechtelsville two years ago. After he was graduated from a Danville school, he served with the US Marine corps. Now he is employed with Bethlehem Steel corporation.

Pottstown Nursing School Art Club Members Highlight Season

Arts club members from the Pottstown school of nursing last night climaxed their winter schedule with a trip to Philadelphia to hear the Academy of Music performance of the opera, "Aida." Organized the past September, the group's stated purpose is "to stimulate interest in all forms of art expression" and their program runs the gamut of the arts and crafts.

Even the art of cookery fell within the club's scope, with a spaghetti supper starting their activities.

In the field of music, the group stresses the modern composers, whose records they study during "music appreciation" meetings.

Visits to painting and sculpture exhibits comprise members' fine arts studies, and their latest trek veered to photography when they viewed the showing of Abraham Lincoln photographs at The Hill school.

Travel interests are expressed with the showing by members of color slides, taken on their individual trips.

Especially stressed are the manual arts and workshops are conducted for knitting, embroidery, crocheting and allied skills.

President of the group is Bernice Brunner and servan as vice president is Marlene Renninger.

Pottstown school of nursing Arts club secretary is Patricia Gillespie.

Members of the organization include: Elizabeth Feick, Dolores Kalil, Jeannette Sharer and Marie Bauer.

HOME FROM Florida, where they spent their honeymoon, are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Melvin Keen, pictured at right. The bride is the former Beatrice Florence Crayton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emory Crayton, Spring City RD 1. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Keen, Snowdenville, are the groom's parents. Their wedding was solemnized in the Spring City Evangelical Lutheran church by the Rev. Ralph L. Alderfer, pastor. The bride wore a gown of white satin with a pearl-embossed peler pan collar, and an illusion net veil of fingertip length. Their reception was held in the church parlor.

PILING INTO their station wagon at the start of their Philadelphia trek are the members of the Pottstown school of nursing who last night attended the opera "Aida." From left, they are: Ruth Bomberger, Elizabeth Miller, Marlene Renninger, Gayle

Mix exotica from four continents with bold and vivid colors, stir in undertones of royalty—and the brew is fashion's formula for Spring, predicted the Pottstown hospital Junior auxiliary style show last night.

Almost 1000 women—and a few stray males—packed Maria Assunta lodge to prove Pottstown's interest in what will mean "well-togged" in 1953.

Sports clothes are heavily flavored with suggestions of either Africa or China, and the African motif is repeated in the gaudy jungle prints of taffeta afternoon frocks.

America is represented by a color — "Madam President pink"—and by the abstract engineering of geometric prints for Spring silks.

Even classic Greece gets into the act—the sheath is the sheath no more—it's been rebaptized the "Grecian column" look.

After-dark clothes are completely self-conscious about the coronation, and elegant ball gowns almost gush with laces and jewels and fancy ornamentation.

Even more alert to the coronation are 1953's jewels—with rhinestone tiaras and crownlets barefacedly mimicking the her- (Continued on Page Twenty-two)

Uncle of the Bride Performs Ceremony Uniting in Marriage Grace Latshaw, Sassamansville, and Russell Moser, Barto

Before an altar blossoming with white gladiolas and palms, Grace Latshaw became the bride of Russell Moser at an afternoon, double ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Latshaw, Sassamansville, are the bride's parents. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Moser, Barto.

Read by the Rev. Harvey Lytle, an uncle of the bride, the service was solemnized in Christ Lutheran church, Niantic.

Mrs. John Gunther was organist and she accompanied Mrs. Earl Mutter's rendition of "Always," chapel length veil, caught to her hair with a white coronet.

Orchids mingled with white roses to form her bouquet, tied with satin streamers knotted with stephanotis.

Her attendants were gowns of the same style in pale pastels.

Mae Latshaw, the bride's sister, was maid of honor in a light blue gown.

Bridesmaids Kathryn Lytle, Reading, a cousin of the bride, and Marion Latshaw, a sister of the bride, were clad in maize and pink.

Frocks of the attendants were styled with lace (tulle) bodices, narrow lace edged the bride's beneath collared jackets with buttoned fronts and pointed, wrist-length sleeves.

Their skirts of nylon net were bouffant over petit-hipps and edged in lace.

The honor maid carried pink carnations, daffodils and iris in a heart-shaped arrangement.

Iris and daffodils formed the heart-shaped bouquets of the bridesmaids.

Diana Hunsberger of Boyertown was flower girl.

Her Nile green frock featured a hooped skirt and lace bodice with a tiny jacket, and she carried a basket of mixed flowers.

Each of the bride's attendants wore headpieces shaped-like heart edged with net and lily of the valley.

Tamar Kulp, Gilbertsville, was the ringbearer.

Best man was Clarence Moser, Barto, and ushers were Charles Conrad, Bechtelsville, and Charles Rhoads, Obelisk.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the Earl township firehall for the 250 wedding guests.

The mothers of the bride and groom both wore gowns of navy blue with white and matching accessories.

To leave for a honeymoon in Florida, the bride changed to a red and white going-away suit, topped with the orchid from her bouquet.

Upon their return, they will make their home with the bride's parents in Sassamansville.

The bride is employed by the Maynor company in East Greenville.

The groom is employed on his father's farm.

Zoning Board Okays Three Requests for Exception to Code

The zoning board of adjustment last night approved three requests for exceptions to the borough zoning codes.

Chairman William H. Yohn and George C. Peacock granted the three petitions after a brief of each case.

The board approved a request of John F. Levan, 82 North Warren street, in the Fifth ward, to alter a building for a store and two apartments. The present structure includes a store and one apartment.

Maurice Miller, Philadelphia Dry Cleaners, was granted permission to erect a sign on the roof of the dry cleaning plant, Madison and Cross streets.

STANLEY SWINEHART, Moser road and Maple street, was given an okay to utilize seven lots on Cherry lane in the Sixth ward for homes.

Jrvin W. Reigner, the third member of the board, did not meet with Peacock and Yohn because of a recent illness. He is recovering from an eye operation at Will's Eye hospital, Philadelphia.

Congressmen Ask Ouster of New York Police Head for Cutting Civil Rights

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 (AP)—Two Democratic members of Congress from New York said today the city's police commissioner should be "fired immediately" on the ground that he has allowed minority groups to be deprived of their civil rights.

Every day that commissioner George P. Monaghan continues in office "is a disgrace to my town and to my country," Rep. Powell, told a House Judiciary subcommittee which is investigating the Justice department.

"It is a blot on the good name of the city of New York," Rep. Dollinger agreed.

They charged that members of minority groups have frequently been deprived of their civil rights by police officers working under Monaghan, and Powell said New York is "a city of terror for minorities."

THEIR TESTIMONY was amplified by another New York congressman, Rep. Javits, a Republican.

Javits told the investigators that an arrangement through which agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation were prevented from questioning New York policemen about civil rights cases "might have been human blindness."

"They were completely blind to the thought that they were substituting themselves for law in the interest of law enforcement of New York city," Javits said. He was referring to New York police authorities.

The protests of Powell and Dollinger were based in part on a memorandum which James M. McInerney, assistant attorney general in charge of criminal cases in the Justice department, sent in July to A. B. Caldwell, chief of the civil rights division.

"IT IS REQUESTED that in the future my attention be called to alleged violations of civil rights involving personnel of law enforcement agencies in large metropolitan areas before any investigation is authorized."

Firemen Extinguish Two Blazes in Fields

Sanatoga and Good Will Fire companies extinguished grass fires in North Coventry and along North Keim street yesterday afternoon.

Frank Keim, Sanatoga chief, said that on North Keim street, Pottstown RD 4, near Ringing Rocks park, Richard Lightowler, 337 Chestnut street, had been burning trash on an open lot when a sudden gust of wind carried a burning gro in a police station in August.

Late today, six New York city policemen were subpoenaed to testify before the grand jury tomorrow.

Meantime, delegates of 30 Negro and white civic organizations demanded that any officials responsible for the alleged FBI-police agreement be fired.

"IT WAS THE first time we ever had a civil rights case in the North," Powell commented. He said Monaghan would probably say the agreement with the Justice department was entered into for the benefit of the morale of the New York police force.

"Why should the New York police have a different morale than the police in Miami or Atlanta or any other Southern city?" he asked.

A Federal grand jury in New York is investigating charges of police brutality against a Negro.

piece of paper to grass near a house.

Using a booster line from its tanker truck, the company extinguished the blaze quickly.

Chief Keim said no homes were seriously threatened.

The Good Wills extinguished a field fire along a road east of Tillow's Corner.

Only 25 minutes elapsed from the time they got the call to the time they were back in the firehouse, mission accomplished.

Style Revolution Forecast by Exhibition of Spring Collections in Maria Assunta

Black was the color of an aldric attire of Britain's peerage.

To shock seems to be the objective of the new colors — as designers' palettes combine tangerine with royal purple, royal blue with antique lace and American beauty deep coral with parma-violet.

Chiefly by Italian and American designers, the fashions exhibited by the auxiliary appeared to contradict the Parisian dictum of neutral-toned shapelessness announced several weeks ago.

Commentator Jerry Golden conditioned his audience for sartorial revolution when he called out the first two models—both of whom were bathing suits that termed the classification lie-in-the-teeth.

Called "Hong Kong," the first had three-quarter length mandarin trousers of black wool jersey and was topped with a black and white striped coolie jacket belted at the waist.

With it, the model wore a dark blue straw sailor hat which sported a whimsical black pigtail dangling from its back.

Even more extreme was the African-influenced swimsuit — also done in black wool jersey with tight, three-quarter trousers.

Above a bare midriff, the costume was a skintight top, also black jersey, with three-quarter length sleeves and a scoop neckline filled with a mammoth necklace of bronze leaves.

Mating top to bottom (and guaranteeing an interesting midriff pattern to the sunwarshipper) over the expanse of bare skin was a zig-zagged rope, laced through bronze eyelets.

Black was the color of an American sports costume—not meant for water, however—done in denim with contrasting white stitching.

Over tailored knee pants, the model wore a boxy jacket and topped the outfit with a jaunty jockey cap.

Discarding pants for more feminine skirts, the style show went on to a California collection of full, circular cotton skirts.

Mostly in pastels, the circles were accented with appliqued felt flowers or sequin curlicues—and marked almost the only unleashed fullness shown for 1953 daytime wear.

Suit skirts are pencil slim columns, worn under short, boxy bolero jackets which taper slightly in the back.

One creation showed a Spanish influence, with a swinging red cape fastened to the black wool jacket. The straight black skirt was cut with an inverted pleat in back.

Spring breezes have a nasty habit of turning cool now and again. Cool-combating are coats with a knitted texture look. They have the suit jacket's tendency to taper towards the back and to sport heavy, swaggering cuffs.

Termed "tuxedo buttoned" was one navy blue coat which earned its title by a facing in white.

Coronation coloring crept in one coat in a shade of "Elizabeth blue," a soft blue-grey. The glitter of court festivities was forecasted in its rhinestones.

With sleeves shorter than elbow-length, one coat asked to be called the "crown." Ribs of knit-one-purl-two on the cuffs were turned back.

Trojans Need Win Over Bridgeport

Overoptimism, complete in its casual garb of joyous red and yellow with splashes of purple, may or may not have succeeded in fignegaling a seat on the team bus to tonight's Pottstown-Bridgeport scrap on the Dragon tliery.

His close buddy, Oversight, is almost a cinch to get a free ride down to the game site with Ed Good's happy, hustling Trojans as they set out to mow down their last two foes before next week's Ches-Mont league titular showdown at the Palestra.

But no matter which one or how many make the scene, we're sure that Dave Ricketts, Mike Krickzy and their mates will also be on hand, and to fight those guys, it takes something along the line of horseshoes. Ask Walt Funk.

The point we're trying to make, no matter how vague up until now, is that Pottstown is of course the topheavy favorite in Dragonville tonight after copping four straight C-M second half nods, including the past Tuesday's 86-69 marde gras over Coatesville, the first half champ.

But, make no mistake, the Trojans are still on the spot. They must win tonight and whenever they play West Chester early next week to even be eligible to compete in that third consecutive league playoff in Philadelphia city.

Naturally, after that impressive decided victory over the Raiders, Good's proteges were accorded a couple of days without the lash, but it's back to business this evening—business with a profit in ready view.

BEATING Bridgeport didn't cause any great concern here a month ago when Ricketts and his mates ran up an 85-46 win. And since then the Trojans and Ricketts have come along faster than many imagined they would until you have today's well balanced scoring machine.

Ricketts himself is in a position to break three league marks tonight: (1) needing four tallies to erase brother Dick's C-M high of 278, (2) needing seven fieldgoals to snap Dick's league high of 112, (3) and needing six fouls to break his own foul goal mark of 68.

With Dave tonight at the post will be the usual combine of Krickzy, Howie Bedell, Doug Moser and Bob Sutton.

The 'Ports, who lost several players in a big mid-season walk-out, have been largely a hit-and-run type quint in the past, but have given a couple of teams trouble on their slippery home lot.

Stahl Tallies Record 48 as Rosenberys Whips Vocals, 96-43

Carl Stahl, who flirted with the Senior Rec league scoring record only to fall two points short earlier this season, finally smashed the four year old mark last night, counting 48 points for his Rosenberry team as it whipped the Vocationalists, 96-43.

The former mark of 43 was hung up in 1949 by East End's Jim Koval. Stahl, the league's leading scorer in the first half completed a week ago, hit for 41 in that first round, but last night there was no stopping the push-shooting south-paw.

He blazoned the strings for 23 fieldgoals—another all-time high—and added two fouls for his 48 total. And the roses also tied their own team offensive mark for the year by counting 96 markers. They had previously hit the same tote against the Gridmen.

In the evening's other tilt, at the Senior High school, the Bullets evened their mark in fifth spot by dumping the Gridders out of a tie for third, 70-67, as the victors' Dick Kelly tallied four points in the last 30 seconds to pocket win for his club.

STAHLS' furious assault on the nets was probably caused by the fact that the Vocationalists, winless in six games before last evening, held a 16-14 first period lead. The Rosenberys came back strong in the second period, however, to count 29 markers, grab a 43-23 intermission lead and leave the disillusioned Vocals standing at the station.

Joe Stranick and Harry Malik split 31 counters for the victors also, while Tom Troutman's 15 topped the Vocals.

The Gridders dropped their third in seven starts to the up-setting Bullets, who now stand but a half game arcars with a 4-4 log. John Marren and Kelly divided 32 counters to pace the up-setters, who held the lead after eight minutes, then fell behind at the half, and finally pulled the nod out with a 22-point last period burst.

Duquesne Reports NIT Feeler; Flu Grazes Dick

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 19 (AP)—Duquesne university reported today it has received a feeler from the National Invitation basketball tournament committee.

The university's council on relations will meet tomorrow to decide whether the school should participate in the tourney at New York. A Duquesne official said the council undoubtedly will vote to accept a bid, if offered.

Meanwhile, two of the Dukes' top court stars, Jim Tucker and Dick Ricketts, were hospitalized with a slight case of flu. They are expected to be back in uniform in time for the Duke's game at Westminster college Saturday.

Al Bodolus Paces Trojan JV Scorers With 219 Points

Al Bodolus, the stick-stemmed whip, is leading Bill McCabe's Pottstown High Jayvees in scoring for the season, figures compiled by the Trojan yearling mentor reveal.

Bodolus, who has not even appeared in all his team's 20 games, tops the list with 219 points on 73 fieldgoals and 59 fouls. Behind him is Merrill Shirey with 73 and 64 for 210.

Carl Sunstrom's 141 is next with Josh Sova fourth with 109. Milt Wensel's 74 and 72 by Red Kerr round out the top six scorers.

Sundstrom owns the best shooting average on the squad, having deposited 54 for 135 floor tries.

At the moment, the Baby Trojans have won 11 straight, 10 in the league, and hold a game lead over Coatesville for the second half jayvee crown. Pottstown copped the first half with a 6-0 log and has won four straight this half. Coatesville, loser here Tuesday, is 3-1 in this round. PHS is 16-4 for the year.

West Pottsgrove at Royersford Scrap Overshadows Boyertown's visit to Collegeville in Perk Loop

Boyertown can clinch itself at least a tie for the Perkmen-Schuykill league crown this evening, but that isn't the big game. No, instead, the circuit's spotlight goes again to Royersford—where the Eagles dunked Upper Perkmen a couple of days back—with the 'Fords' (7-4) hosting of West Pottsgrove (7-4).

That tiff is ever so important to both parties because the winner stands a grand chance to cop the circuit's Class C crown and move into the district playoffs or something better.

No matter who wins this evening, however, the other team still has a formidable foe to get by. West Pottsgrove hosts Upper Perk on next Friday, while Nerco visits the 'Fords' Tuesday.

Royersford—the defending class C champ via a playoff win over Pennsburg a year back—must stand the favorite this evening at home after its dumbfounding shattering of the Yellow Jackets' future earlier this week.

BUT THE FALCS stopped them a month ago, 49-48, on the WP floor, when the 'Fords' frantic second half rally fell just short. And the Eagles needed a 25-for-52 night from the floor to upset Upper Perk. It's still doubtful if they'll shoot that well this evening.

Grace Downs Transfiguration Quint To Stay Atop Sunday School Circuit

Grace stayed atop the heap in the Sunday School basketball league last night by bumping runnerup Transfiguration again, 46-41, at the Franklin school.

Emmanuel scraped up its third win of the season in the night's other test, waffling last-place St. John's, 60-38.

Larry Romig, Carl Missimer and Bob Mayberry were the big men for Grace as the Green rode to its seventh league win against a single defeat and drew even closer to repeating the past year's double sweep performance.

Romig and Missimer split 26 and Mayberry aided substantially with another dozen, while Russ Meyers' 14 topped the losing Orange.

The defeat was the third against five wins for Transfiguration.

DOUG SCHAEFER and Cal Swavely racked up 40 counters between them in leading Emmanuel to victory over the once-winning Johns, who never topped double figures in any one period until the last chapter.

In that 18 point rally by the Saints, Gordon Wampler proved the big spark, netting the greater part of his 22 points. Red Tyson tallied 10 also for the losers.

Defending seasonal champ URW wielded its regular schedule wand again last night to defeat '52 playoff winner Three Crowns in the City Basketball circuit at the Junior High school, 61-47, to dump the Crowns out of first place again.

Doehlers swept into the lead that it left earlier this week after being defeated by the Coffee Cup, by decking Jacobs, 72-62, for its eighth win of the season against three setbacks.

One full game separates the loop's first four teams. Three Crowns has won seven out of 10 and stands a half game behind Doehlers. URW's win was its seventh, which put them in a virtual tie with the Coffee Cup for third and a half length behind the Crowns.

Perkiomen Indians Win 11th in Big Nine Loop, by 74-53 Count

Ken Miller and Bob Christman paced the Perkiomen Indians to a 74-53 victory over Schwenksville last night in Big Nine cage loop game at East Greenville, canning 25 and 20 markers, respectively.

Miller carried his club through the first half of its 11th league win against six defeats, scoring 17 counters over that span while his mates were assuming a 34-22 lead.

Christman, who tallied six points in the first half, woke up for 14 after the midway break.

Bob Hayes and Dave King split 21 for the losers.

Perkiomen now stands in fourth spot in the league standings. The Perk Jayvees lost in the prelim, 61-60.

THE DIECASTERS sent the Jakes reeling deeper into the second division by clinching at least a tie for a playoff berth. Jacobs is still mathematically within range of the third and fourth place clubs and showed enough last evening in dropping its seventh against Waynesburg tomorrow instead of Saturday. They will meet Edinboro at home next Thursday instead of March 4.

Rod Cannel and Stan Swenk evenly divided 30 counters, while Bill Binczak spotted 14 more. But this trio was no match for John Hillegass, who tallied his high total for the year, 25; Jim Price, 16, and Dennie Dennis, 15.

Araujo-DeMarco Bout to Produce Probable Lightweight Title Contender

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 (AP) — With lightweight champion Jimmy Carter on a losing streak and a title defense due soon, there is unusual interest in tomorrow's Madison Square Garden meeting of two contenders—George Araujo of Providence, R. I., and Paddy De Marco of Brooklyn.

The 10-rounder, scheduled for 10:00 p. m. will be carried on network radio (ABC) and television (NBC).

The winner of this fight probably will get a title shot against Carter in May, although highly-ranked Johnny Gonsalves of Oakland, Calif., can't be overlooked. Two judges and a referee will give the decision on a round basis.

Len Levin's 21 for the JMC's represented the day's top score. Ron Stranick pitched in 18 for the Hi-Y's, and Fred Kupeski of the Spiders and Larry Lerch of the Mohawks each pocketed 17.

Bob Porterfield Out To Break His Jinx

ORLANDO, Fla., Feb. 19 (AP) — Bob Porterfield of the Washington Nationals, who pitched in seven games last year in which his team failed to score a run, hopes to shed his bad luck tag this season.

"I'm going to come up with a really big year," he says, "and kill the idea that I'm 'jinxed'."

The 28-year-old right-hander has had some rough going. The ace of a good Washington pitching staff, Porterfield didn't break even last year. He won 13, and lost 14.

And he's had a passel of troubles, including a sore arm that set him back just when he seemed to be set for a major league career.

A LINE DRIVE once broke a finger, another line drive creased his skull and left him with dizzy spells, and still another line drive clipped him on the leg and put him out for a month.

But the picture isn't all dark. Only six pitchers in the American League last year came up with a better earned run average than Porterfield's 2.73 a game. And since his employer, Clark Griffith, is an oldtime pitcher who appreciates this sort of thing, Porterfield got a nice raise in pay this year.

It's a safe bet that big Luke Easter will be playing first base for the Indians this year for the big guy has signed his contract for a reported $20,000, representing a raise. Big Luke didn't exactly rob the Cleveland safe but Hank Greenberg (left), the club's general manager, stood by to prevent any concentrated attack on the coffers.

Hill Faces Another College Nemesis Today—F & M Frosh

The Hill school's eagles make another attempt this afternoon in one of their few Friday games to snap out of a trance put on them over the past week by two college Freshmen quints, meeting the Franklin and Marshall Frosh on Gillison court this afternoon at 3 p. m.

Perry Bowden's Blues will be defending a 9-4 mark today after dropping two straight nods—one each to the Princeton and Penn Frosh.

Those four defeats in themselves represent the highest figure that Bowden has ever been caught with at the Hill. He lost four two years ago, but there are still several rugged foes remaining on the Blue's schedule—including this one this afternoon.

Brosch, Palmer Share Kentucky Bills Cage Mexican Open Lead

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 19 (AP) — Dark-horses Al Brosch of Garden City, N.Y., and Johnny Palmer of Charlotte, N.C., led a field of 162 with eight-under-par 64's today to tie for the lead in the opening day of the ninth Mexican Open golf tournament.

A total of 48 players bettered the par 72 of the 6664-yard Chapultepec course—about one-third of those battling for the $9,400 pesos ($9450) in prizes.

Byron Nelson of Roanoke, Tex., listed among the pre-tourney favorites, shot a sub-par 68. He fired a sensational 30 on the first nine, including eagles on the 503-yard, par five fifth hole and on the 480-yard, par 5 eighth.

Tiny Shrew Is Fiercest Of Animals, Author Says

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 19 (AP) — The fiercest animal on earth, says Alan Devore, writing in "Frontiers," is not the tiger or grizzly bear but the tiny shrew.

Some species of shrew are so small that they come 14 to an ounce. A shrew is so tough it will attack and devour almost any animal up to twice its size and so voracious it eats its own weight in meat every three hours. Without food, it starves to death in less than a day. It dies of old age in about 16 months.

SMU Names Chalmer Woodard Coach

DALLAS, Feb. 19 (AP) — Southern Methodist University today picked Chalmer E. Woodard of tiny McPherson college in Kansas to pull its football fortunes from strifed depths.

Woodard, 36, who built a great record coaching high school and college teams, was named head coach to succeed H. N. (Rusty) Russell, who resigned Feb. 1 under pressure from the alumni.

The man athletic director Matty Bell recommended as "one of the outstanding young coaches in the country — qualified for a big job" was given a three-year contract by the faculty committee on athletics. His salary will be the same as Russell's, an estimated $12,000 a year.

Russell quit with the statement that he couldn't coach the football team and answer criticism too. He was paid off on the three years remaining on his contract, the amount being estimated at $36,000. Russell's three year record as head coach was 12 victories, 16 defeats and two ties. His highest finish in the Southwest conference was third place last Fall.

WOODWARD, who built McPherson, which has only 350 students, into one of the strongest small college football teams in the country, will fly here Sunday to finish out the basketball season — he is basketball coach, too — and plans to open Spring training at Southern Methodist March 2.

The new coach expressed surprise that he got the job which had been offered to a number of big name coaches over the country, including Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech and Wes Fester of Minnesota. The big name coaches, however, spurned the job and it settled down to five men — Woodward, Milburn Smith of East Texas State, Andy Pilney of Tulane, Buddy Brothers of Tulsa and Gomer Jones of Oklahoma. Jones, however, eliminated himself by demanding more than a three-year contract. Mike Brumbelow of Texas Western, a strong contender, withdrew from consideration when he got a better contract at Western.

Woodard said at McPherson, Kansas, where he coaches football, basketball and track and also is athletic director, that "I hate to leave this bunch of grand kids and I hate to leave this school. It looks like I'll be plenty busy at Dallas."

Woodard coached successfully at Kingman, Dodge City and Lawrence, Kans., high schools, going to McPherson college in 1930. McPherson had won only one football game in two years but Woodard's first team took three. It won seven and lost two in 1931 and last year was undefeated, winning the Kansas conference championship.

Camp News: Phils Sign Glaviano; Dykes Plans to Carry 11 Pitchers This Season; Meyer Gets $3000 Raise

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 19 (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies today announced that infielder Tom Glaviano and rookie catcher Joe Lonnett had signed 1953 contracts, leaving only eight players out of the fold. The Phils said—men had agreed to terms.

WEST PALM BEACH, Feb. 19 (AP) — Manager Jimmy Dykes of the Philadelphia Athletics said today he wants to carry 11 hurlers during the American League campaign — which means he will have to whittle seven off the list of 18 expected to be in training camp by the end of this week.

The four A's pitchers with the least to worry about at this stage seem to be the team's expected starters — Harry Byrd, Bobby Shantz, Alex Keler and Carl Sheib.

One of the most likely prospects among the remainder of the string appears to be Charley Bishop, who had a brief fling with the A's last season.

VERO BEACH, Feb. 19 (AP) — Russ Meyer, right handed pitcher obtained from the Philadelphia Phillies earlier this week in a four-club trade, signed an $18,000 contract with the Brooklyn Dodgers today. That's an estimated $3000 raise over his 1952 pay.

Manager Charlie Dressen said that pitcher Joe Landrum would be inducted into the Army shortly and would not report for Spring training. He won 15 and lost 10 for Fort Worth last year before joining the Dodgers, with whom he won one and lost three.

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., Feb. 19 (AP) — St. Louis Browns manager Marty Marion said today he plans to put his pitchers and catchers through their first paces Saturday or Sunday.

He welcomed three new pitchers to the Spring training camp site yesterday. One, Bill Pilgram just back from the armed services, is regarded as one of the brightest prospects in the Browns' farm system. The others are Clarence Marshall, also just out of service, and George Koby, formerly of the Cardinal organization.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 19 (AP) — Shortstop Solly Hemus, one of the game's best lead-off men, may have to hustle to keep his starting assignment with the St. Louis Cardinals.

That came out today when Redbird manager Eddie Stanky said only second basemen Red Schoendienst is sure of a job. "Don't overlook any of the rookies," Stanky said. "All those boys will get their chance."

Stanky mentioned Walter Lammer, who batted 257 with Columbus, O., last year as a possible competitor for Hemus.

BOSTON, Feb. 19 (AP) — The Boston Red Sox tonight reported receipt of signed contracts from three players, two pitchers and a shortstop.

Great Captain Cops $5000 Cracker Purse

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 (AP) — Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, who at 78 retains the training skill that brought him fame down through the years, saddled Ogden Phipps' Great Captain to an exciting triumph in the $5000 Florida Cracker purse, the headline today at Hialeah park.

Although it was the colt's first start since the close of the 1952 New York season in November, Great Captain went postward a mighty fit thoroughbred, as was reflected by the way he mowed down the opposition in the over-night event of a mile and a furlong.

BOROUGH SCOUTS TO PARTICIPATE IN PILGRIMAGE

25 Units From This Area To Join Parade at Valley Forge

One of the biggest adventures of the year will begin for Pottstown area Boy Scouts tomorrow morning.

It will be the day of the 40th annual Scout pilgrimage to Valley Forge park, an event in which 8000 Boy Scouts and leaders will participate.

Scout troops and Explorer units will converge on the historic site from all districts of the Valley Forge (Philadelphia area) council.

They will include about 25 Scout units from the Pottstown area, which is in the Continental district.

CEREMONIES IN which the local Scouts will take part include a huge parade through the park beginning at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Heading the youthful marchers will be the Valley Forge Military academy band.

Directly behind will be massed hundreds of American flags—one from each Scout unit in the council area.

The Scout troops and Explorer units, in khaki and green uniforms, will follow the massed colors. Members of each troop will march together eight abreast behind a standard bearer carrying the troop flag.

After forming at Washington's headquarters, the Scouts will march to the monument of Capt. John Waterman, on which the leaders will place a memorial wreath.

BENEATH THIS monument, historians say, lies the only soldier who died at Valley Forge to be known by name today.

Captain Waterman was one of the 3000 men who perished on the icy slopes there during the dark Winter of 1777, most of whom were laid in unmarked graves.

General Washington, whose 220th birthday the Scouts honor tomorrow, had a force of about 11,000 men with him in the Winter encampment of his ragged Army.

"An Adventure on Hallowed Ground" is the theme of the activities to be climaxed by the laying of the wreath tomorrow morning.

Local Explorer units will leave for Valley Forge late this afternoon. There they will set up camp on the wooded hill between the park chapel and the Schuylkill river.

Tomorrow morning they will be joined for the ceremonies by the Scout troops, who will arrive in the park at 8:30 o'clock.

FOLLOWING THE parade and the solemn rites at the Waterman monument, the Scouts will go on exploration hikes along trails once trod by soldiers of the Revolution.

Explorer Scouts will hold further ceremonies at the grave of Dr. W. Herbert Burk, pioneer pastor of Valley Forge chapel.

Most local troops plan to cook outdoor dinners at Valley Forge at noon tomorrow. Plots for this purpose have been laid out along the river.

CRASH KILLS YOUTH PITTSBURGH, Feb. 19 (AP) — An auto smashed into a utility pole in Sharpsburg across the Allegheny river from Pittsburgh today, killing its driver, 17-year-old Leon Charniecki, who was fleeing police.

in a deep hem to resemble the beveling of a tuxedo.

Poodle cloth in white, short-length, went flippant with its extra fishtail length in back.

A long black coat tried to steal the limelight from its sister dress in white. Covered with a black geometric, almost surrealist print, was a white sheath dress. Its square neck extended to tiny sleeves almost hidden by the covering coat.

But black printed white mimicked the frock lined the black coat, too.

Extravagant eceteras tried to take afternoon dresses back to the primitive. Complementing the tone of jungle colors and prints was a set of gold bracelet earrings. They were worn with a brilliant blue green frock.

Large enough to fit around one's upper arm, their metal was that of an accompanying basket. A matching aqua scarf glowed through its golden meshwork.

A boy, short-sleeved jacket in a pale pink shade was thrown over an all round pleated afternoon dress of white. Left unbuttoned, the jacket could not hide the dress' scooped neck and small sleeve extension.

Cocktail competition came in street-length flapper guise. One black, one white, two sheath dresses harked back to the Fitzgerald era of bathtub gin.

Three gossamer white lace laced model room to do her vamping. The solid lace area was covered with rhinestones, pearls and flower appliques. Two wide straps held the bodice shimmy-proof.

Marking each undulation of the model's walk were two huge horizontal black feathers growing from a tiny black skull cap. Black was marked vertically in her fringe, festooned body.

Layers upon layers of the fringe were broken only by a cummerbund at the waist. Ignoring any possibility of apology were two string straps. Black pumps finished the outfit.

Descending by hemlines, the next frock shown was ankle-length white lace over orchid organdy. White pleated nylon lay on the bodice and over the shoulder line. White lace floated above orchid pumps.

Brilliant red lace fitted the bodice of a full length gown styled with an ingenious apron effect. Red lace swagged the skirt's front which was completed with pleated red nylon. Undersheathing it all was white nylon.

Bangs aren't the only byword with Mamie Eisenhower. There's Mamie pink, too. The delicate pink shade was used in rows and rows of pleated nylon. It swerved in front to form the favorite apron appearance and crept up one shoulder as an anchoring excuse.

Rhinestones, seemingly incapable for evening wear, were shown in circlets, coronets and tiaras. Even 'Mamie's pink' was crowned with the American adaptation of royalty's symbol.

Proceeds from the evening will be used for the auxiliary's hospital project, that of furnishing the orthopedic clinic.

Motorcycle Driver Injured in Collision

One man was injured yesterday afternoon when an automobile and a motorcycle were involved in a collision at Jefferson avenue and Charlotte street.

Paul F. Smith, North Wales RD 1, who was riding the motorcycle, was treated for cuts of the forehead and back in Pottstown hospital.

Police reported Edward Majka, Pottstown RD 3, operator of the car, said he was traveling east on Jefferson avenue and was almost through the Charlotte street intersection when his wife yelled, "Look out."

At the same time the motorcycle hit his rear right fender. Smith told police he was on Charlotte street when the Majka car crossed in front of him. He tried to turn to miss the car, he said, but hit the right rear fender.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1953

The chief action for a man of spirit is never to be out of action; the soul was never put into the body to stand still.—John Webster.

Fretty Strong Stand!

ANY day now the biggest news story of the century is expected to break. It'll be in the form of a resolution adopted by the Pottstown Chamber of Commerce. It'll say the Chamber endorses mother love! The first step was taken the other day when Secretary Ralph H. Sparc announced that the Chamber was "against anything which is evil!" My, what an earth-shaking pronouncement!

This is Police Cooperation

THERE was a fine illustration of police cooperation in the quick response Reading company officials made to a suggestion that rowdiness existed in the Pottstown railroad station.

When advised Pottstown women had complained of being frightened by loiterers there, that some crimes had their inception at the station, Robert R. Zohner, captain of company police, agreed at once to make a check.

"Starting tonight I'll begin a campaign to straighten out the situation there," he volunteered. He said he'd have the station patrolled, admitting "we make quite a few arrests at the Pottstown station every year."

His cooperation came after The Mercury editorially called his attention to rough characters frequenting the station.

Willingness to help by Captain Zohner might be an inspiration to Pottstown's police department, which so frequently has been accused of laxity.

The same-day Captain Zohner was hoping to help the public, Pottstown ministers made progress in their war against smutty literature on sale on local bookstalls.

But the Rev. Donald T. Floyd, who brought this evil to the attention of borough council and asked that police be instructed to crack down on those selling obscene literature, sadly reported:

"I know of no action that has been taken." This inaction is sad because the smut issue was first broached in a sermon in a church where Burgess William A. Griffith, commander-in-chief of the police department, attends. Burgess Griffith, so far as is known, has ordered no police check on smutty material.

But then he didn't order a crackdown on horse race gambling rooms, either. Nor on the bawdy house that was called Club 100. Nor on illicit sale of liquor in local speak-easies.

A writer to Readers Say yesterday ridiculed a suggestion that 25 more policemen were needed here to enforce the law.

This correspondent pointed out that not even traffic laws are enforced here, even though Pottstown has 25 policemen and spends more than $100,000 a year on the police department.

"Clean house and set up an efficient system of operation for the present police force," this writer urged. Then he added: "There are men on the force who will function conscientiously if they are properly directed."

This has been a contention here, but the advice has fallen on deaf ears. A worse evil is a deterrent held out by some inactive police. Let a policeman try to perform his duty and some of his mates will ridicule him. "What are you bucking for?" they abse.

It seems the best way to get along at borough hall is to do nothing. But it's terribly costly to the taxpayers to have to support foot-on-the-desk drones.

It wouldn't take much time for Burgess Griffith to look under the surface of his department.

Pottstown sees two or three policemen standing on a busy High street corner chatting away the taxpayers' money. Pottstown sees social visits in restaurants, while traffic is snarled and white hotrodgers scatter pedestrians to the four winds.

There is little discipline, if any, in the department... and this all stems from lack of morale, from encouraged jealousy and backbiting.

The commander-in-chief owes it to the public to correct all this. As the correspondent to Readers Say said yesterday: "All borough officials who are neglecting their jobs are betraying the trust put in them." The public will exact an accounting!

Grampaw Oakley

Editor, The Mercury, February 19, Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, while Pottstown is having lovely February weather, there's a blizzard in the middle west, and a dust storm in Texas. That is putting it in black and white.

American women don't know how to boil water. That's what the chief tea taster for the government said as he quit his job after 40 years. He'd better quit. That'd get him into plenty of hot water!

And say: Adlai Stevenson knew, all along he'd get into the White House—even if it was just for lunch! Hopin' you air the same, GRAMPW NED OAKLEY

READERS SAY:

Juvenile Vandalism Blamed on Parents

Children Aren't Controlled

To the Editor: All over Pottstown parents are regarding the "smut" issue as one of the most acute town problems where youths are concerned. But what of the vandalism of grade school children?

I have recently visited a new home of mine that is for sale and saw the destruction of property that was the result of grade school children vandalism. Shrubbery fences were uprooted, shrubbery trampled, a dog house torn apart and mud plastered all over the steps.

I have also been told of a vacant lot where the property owner has cement blocks he expects to use in the construction of his new home that have been broken and thrown all over the lot.

If the parents are too occupied to correct grade school children for property damage right in front of their eyes how do they ever expect to stop teen-agers from reading "smut"?

Lack of training in the young child is the whole trouble. Fathers are too busy earning the family income and mothers are just too busy.

The motto "children should be seen and not heard" is seldom practiced. Perhaps a new motto for the parents is in order "parents should be seen and heard more often."

More than two years ago, the hospital ran a public appeal for funds for the new building, and the public responded 100 percent.

WASHINGTON

Dulles Reports Allies

Think Attack Unlikely

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Although Secretary Dulles' report on his European tour of NATO countries was given behind the closed doors of several congressional committees, his most significant statements have been made available to this writer.

Not even President Eisenhower's reiterated injunction against misnamed "blabbermouths," luckily, can muzzle the members of Congress. The American people have a right to know the facts.

First, the British and the French do not entertain the same fear of Russia's warlike purposes and action as we do according to Dulles. Therefore, they see no reason for rearmament or effectuating a European Defense Community as fast or as expensively as Eisenhower and Dulles think they should.

From their long experience with Moscow under the Czars and the Commissars, they do not believe that the Kremlin will wage war, unless attacked.

FRANCE FEARS REARMED GERMANY: Secondly, France is more afraid of a rearmend and militaristic Germany than she is of Stalin. Russia has not invaded France since Napoleon's wars, whereas the Germans, conquered and devastated French territory three times within 70 years, from 1870 to 1940. Ancient still living remember, as I learned during World War I.

London laughs at our fears of an imminent Russian attack. Churchill's military, economic and political experts insist that Moscow is in no position to undertake a program of world conquest.

In their opinion, it will be at least 10 years before Russian industry, agriculture, transportation and production can support a conflict of global nature between the two worlds.

Finally, and this may shock the American Congress and people, London and Paris are not too seriously concerned with our "police action" in Korea. They oppose any new Eisenhower policy that will broaden that conflict, or jeopardize their interests and holdings in the Far East.

Having policed far corners of the earth for almost 200 years—in Afghanistan, Egypt, Morocco, Indo-China, Singapore, Hong Kong, etc.—the British and French look upon our Korean intervention and casualties as the natural consequence of our postwar assumption of world responsibilities.

FRENCH DEMAND: The Anglo-French viewpoint, so Dulles says, is that the United States is now suffering the birth pains of a world power with worldwide commitments. In their talks with Dulles, although they cannot make the same admission for home consumption, they insist that the US must bear the main burden of this responsibility, financially and militarily.

Secretary Dulles tried to soften and cushion this challenging response. But his Congressional listeners caught his meaning. It was that there will be no creation of a European Defense Community, which means a pooling of German, French, British, American, Italian, Belgian and Dutch soldiers, unless the United States and Great Britain provide the men and the money for this combined anti-Russian enterprise.

In any formation of an international army, with 20 German divisions as a solid nucleus, France demands a 50-year guarantee from Britain and the United States to come to her aid in event of any invasion.

Centralized Department Asked

To the Editor: The fire protection system in Pottstown is as antiquated as its governmental setup. In a borough the size of Pottstown, there should be a full-time fire department the same as there is a full-time police force.

The fire companies should not have to depend on revenues from social activities. They should be tax-supported. The fire companies expect appropriations to be cut by the borough this year.

Who is going to make up the deficit? The only way the fire companies can get money is to run Sunday speak-easies. Everyone wants protection but nobody wants to pay for it. Nobody wants to be annoyed either.

With a centralized full-scale fire department, one large fire house could probably handle all the borough's work. It could be located in a strategic spot, a central point which would provide, a quick means of reaching any spot in the borough.

One large department, such as that

Action on Smut Wanted

To the Editor: So far, the battle against smut has been just a war of words. What I want is action!

I suggest that one of our crusading pastors array himself as a knight of old—as Don Quixote, for example.

Let him gallop down High street on a white charger, jousting boldly at the filthy newsstands.

I'm sure The Hill school has an old suit of armor they could dust off for the occasion, and I know a farmer who would be willing to lend an old workhorse as a steed.

A long-handled broom could serve for a lance, as well as a symbol of purity. And just to prove my sincerity, I'm willing to play Sancho Panza.

Pottstown HUMORIST

Welcome!

To the Editor: May I merely say to the person who wrote the letter in The Mercury, February 19, that the spaghetti-supper allegedly held by the junior class of the Senior High school was not served in Emmanuel Lutheran church.

The writer apparently has his churches confused. Emmanuel is on the corner of Hanover and Walnut streets. Come, see us sometime! Pottstown.

Gossip in Gotham

ONE OF THE top Broadway bookies is actually laying odds that the Jellie case will end in a mistrial. And having a hard time getting takers... Frank Sinatra, who was scheduled to guest on the Martha Raye TV spot Saturday night, casually called the producers from Montreal with a "sorry boys, can't make it" and took off for England, leaving the writer of the show, Nat Hiken, to tear up the script and start all over again.

Chums say Frankie flew to London because he hadn't heard from Ava for a week.

Christine Jorgensen is averaging six show business offers a day, and turning down all of them... A national magazine has all but concluded negotiations with ex-President Truman for full publication rights to his memoirs. Harry will get over half a million dollars paid over a period of years to lessen the tax blow.

A well known Broadway photographer has been subpoenaed in the Jellie case. His testimony may be used by the defense to cast doubt on Pat Ward's veracity... Nick Darvas, of the fabulous dance act, really has something to dance about. He made a killing of $150,000 in the stock market last week... Mrs. Lou Costello is a pneumonia victim.

JUDY A., is a college sophomore.

"Dr. Crane, I want to become a physician," she announced "Although you generally refrain from dealing with strictly medical problems in your psychology column, I wonder if you'd tell us some of the greatest advances in medicine in the past centuries."

"And please describe some of the human interest elements in modern surgery."

"Do you recall the old adage about 'starving a fever?'" Now we tend to follow the patient's appetite and feed him whatever he seems sufficiently interested to eat. Your hunger is a pretty good test of what your body needs.

And remember how urgently people tried to break a fever? Now we are grateful for the fever if it doesn't go much above 105 degrees, we sit tight.

BECAUSE GERMS don't seem to multiply as fast at fever temperatures as do white corpuscles!

So the elevated body temperature increases our armies of white corpuscles faster than the invading germs can flood us with their new crops of young bacteria.

In the old days of severe vomiting and diarrhea, moreover, the patient might get seriously dehydrated or deficient in fluids.

Now we can give ample glucose and salt solutions under the skin or by vein.

WHEN I WAS an interne, an athletic little woman, weighing 85, was brought into the hospital here at Chicago.

Her attending physicians started fluids by vein, and said as soon as one liter (about one quart) had trickled in, to substitute another liter. He said to keep it up till he personally cancelled the order.

The interne on his service called me next morning for advice, saying he had already given the woman 17 liters of glucose and saline in the preceding 12 hours. He wondered if that wasn't enough.

Although this 85-pound woman had taken about four gallons of fluids during the night, which was probably four times her total blood volume, she was as pale as a bird, and showed no ill effects.

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 19.—Paul Douglas is leaping to Germany to star in "Stranger in Munich." This is the film Ray Milland ankled recently—when financing didn't come through as fast as he'd hoped.

Hilary Hill and John Shelton are ablaze... Marilyn Monroe developed a bad cold over the weekend. Her doctor told her to get dressed and go to bed!

Incidentally, M. Claudette Colbert's studio bosses may be slightly upset to learn Marilyn made her television "debut" playing a waitress in something called, "The Dangerous Years," an oldie now on the video circuit.

Really think Warners has itself something in Chuck Connors, who's retiring from baseball to stay on that lot as an actor. He'll be featured with Burt Lancaster and Virginia Mayo in "The Marnes Had a Word for It." Chuck is a wholly different "type," with a unique personality. Properly cast, he'll be big star stuff.

WHEN OUR off-denied items about Claudette Colbert and Dr. Joel Pressman become an "official bulletin," remember it's said here for months that they've long been separated by more than 5000 miles!

At the International Motor Sports show, Herb Shriner will show a trailer to end all trailers. A two-story house on wheels, with folding furniture! Too bad the humorous and ingratiating Shriner can't monolog more on his "Two Fox the Money" T.V. But this has become the fastest and most delightful of the big money quiz shows. And what money! No limit to what contestants can win!

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

Paging Mr. Meulengracht... What He Did to Ailer!...

By SHANDY HILL

★ DIET—When Memorial hospital authorities found a bed in which to ease this ailing body, a guy by the name of Meulengracht became a continuous thorn in my side. Don't suppose you know him. You probably can't even pronounce his name. But you'd remember him if you had to take the guff this ailer did. He wasn't even an employee of the hospital. But what an influence! It all started when a nurse tiptoed into the room shortly after 11 o'clock the first night. "I'm taking out the water bottle," she announced. "You're not to have any water during the night." Then, early the next morning, another angel of mercy broke the news: "You're not to have any food or water until after you've come up from X-ray! They'll give you some barium cocktails there!"

THE BARIUM COCKTAILS were composed of that chalk-like fluid swallowed slowly while an X-ray technician yells "Take a deep breath. Now hold it there." And then he observes the flow of this opaque material down into the gastro-intestinal regions. Luckily he tells you after a while: "Now breathe again." It would be sad if he ever forgot that last line! Doeblner-Jarvis executives who took this treatment will know all about the picture-gallery experience, and all will attest to how easy it is to learn what makes the human tick: It's really fun! That is, until a little later, some six hours later...

★ ALL THOSE HOURS no food entered the gullet, because the X-ray gentlemen said they'd have to get a final picture to see what happened to the barium. After about 20 hours without food a guy gets kind of hungry and when the go-sign was given that food could be inhaled, this "invalid" decided a big, juicy steak, baked potato, and maybe two cups of coffee would about take away the headache he had. That's where Mr. Meulengracht reared his ugly diet. What this ailer was given to break his fast of 20 hours was: one-third glass of milk, one piece of white bread, and one cup of tea!

BRUTALITY, I calls it! That Memorial hospital has one of the finest dietitians extant in Mrs. Catherine Fertig. She went to Temple university to learn how to cook, and what happens? For supper that night I got one ounce of cream, one-third glass of milk, a cup custard and a cup of tea. Jeepers! For a guy who was known to have consumed at a sitting two heaping helpings of pork and sauerkraut, who ate cornbeef and cabbage until it came out of his ears, and who even pleased the Pennsylvania Dutch by gobbling snitz and knepp, that was moider! Surely, Mrs. Fertig could do better than that, and what did she learn too cook for, anyway?

★ MRS. FERTIG really couldn't help it, because the medicos put me on this Meulengracht diet, a soft diet that features, pureed fruit, applesauce, cream soups, oatmeal, applesauce, strained vegetables, applesauce, mashed potatoes, vanilla pudding, applesauce and the like. About the fifth day of this soft treatment an interne had to come into the room to restrain me from eating a leg off the bed. Funny thing about this Meulengracht guy. I was so obsessed with the name that I tried all over to get some dope on him to give you readers. Bert Seawell, at Pottstown hospital, had a medical volume that mentioned him, but it gave no first name, or any background. Freda Gloss at the Pottstown Library couldn't find anything on him there, and she even made a futile telephone call to Philadelphia. Only thing learned was that he thought up this diet sometime back in 1934. He should have stood in bed!

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

A CONVULSION in a child can be a very serious emergency unless it is properly cared for.

The first thing that most people think of in such a case is epilepsy, but while it is true that epilepsy is the cause of some convulsions, most childhood convulsions are from other causes, such as infections with fever.

Happily, epilepsy need no longer be feared by parents as it was at one time, for nearly all types of convulsions due to epilepsy can be adequately controlled when the proper medicine is given.

When a child has a convulsion, the parent can help the physician by describing the details of the convulsion from the beginning to end. Often no one else is around at the time to watch, and the doctor may arrive after the convulsion is over.

The greatest help in discovering the cause of a convulsion is an instrument known as the electroencephalograph, or EEG. This instrument gives a picture of the electrical brain waves which generally reveal the type of epilepsy present. The EEG is of particular value because it can detect types of epilepsy which produce no seizures.

For example, in one type the child suddenly forgets everything and gets a blank stare for a few seconds or minutes. Nodding spasms, in which the child just nods his head, mark another type of epilepsy that can be detected.

When a child's fever goes past 103 or 104 degrees, there is grave danger of irritation of the brain. It seems that fever speeds up metabolism and brings on a convulsion in those children who have a tendency toward convulsions. Usually when the temperature is lowered, the convulsion disappears.

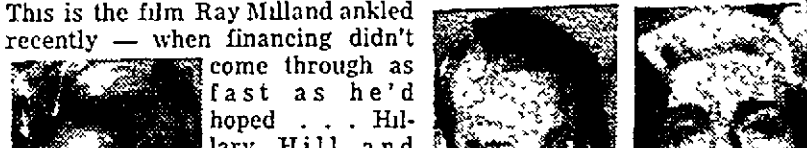

Every method must be used to reduce the fever. Alcohol sponges, plus a cool tap water enema will usually bring the temperature down and stop the convulsion. Drugs, such as sedatives that prevent convulsions, must be used in many cases along with other treatments.

Business Club Hears 'Ham' Operator Talk On Radio Activities

One of the Pottstown area's 48 amateur radio operators was the "surprise speaker" at the American Business club meeting last night.

Joe L. Bowen, first vice president of the club and a licensed operator for the past 20 years, spoke on the activities of the "hams" and the lingo they use.

He revealed that he had talked with other amateurs in 122 foreign cities during the past two years. This was the number of calls confirmed, he added.

Trying to call foreign stations is known as "working all continents," while calling operators in the United States is referred to as "working all states," the speaker said.

He reminded his listeners that the "hams" often render valuable service during emergencies such as floods and storms, when regular communications are down.

President Walter McCurdy conducted a short business session at the beginning of the 7 p. m. meeting in the Elks home. During which it was decided to give the $300 made on recent benefit basketball games to the Pottstown Community camp craft shop.

State Official Clarifies Governor's Press Order

HARRISBURG, Feb. 19 (AP)—David M. Walker, secretary of labor and industry today became the first Cabinet member to clarify a policy of news distribution in his department under a new order by Gov. John S. Fine.

Walker ordered divisions of his department to meet all requests from the press for news or related information to be met with "prompt and courteous attention."

If a request is, in the opinion of the employee contacted, "a matter of administrative policy," Walker said, "then that request should be transmitted to the secretary or his deputies for determination in accordance with the policy established by the Governor."

Local Blood Donors Helped Cut Deaths, Optimists Are Told

Pottstown blood donors have helped to reduce deaths of soldiers wounded in Korea from 5 percent to 1 percent, the local Optimist club heard last night.

Capt. R. C. Mecacchion, medical officer from the Valley Forge Army hospital, told members that the Red Cross also deserves much credit for collecting blood.

Captain Mecacchion said that the number of soldiers who die from wounds is steadily decreasing. In World War I it was 12 percent, in World War II 5 percent, and in Korea 1 percent.

President Leroy H. Keyser conducted the meeting, with 27 members present.

DR. WALTER W. SCHELL was appointed to the board of governors to replace John Goldthread, Firestone Rubber company executive, who is being transferred to Springfield, Mass.

A nominating committee was appointed at the meeting, consisting of Roland T. Brauch, chairman; Elwood R. Angstadt, Harry Hunsberger, Bruce Lessig and L. Stanley Mauger.

WAY BACK WHEN

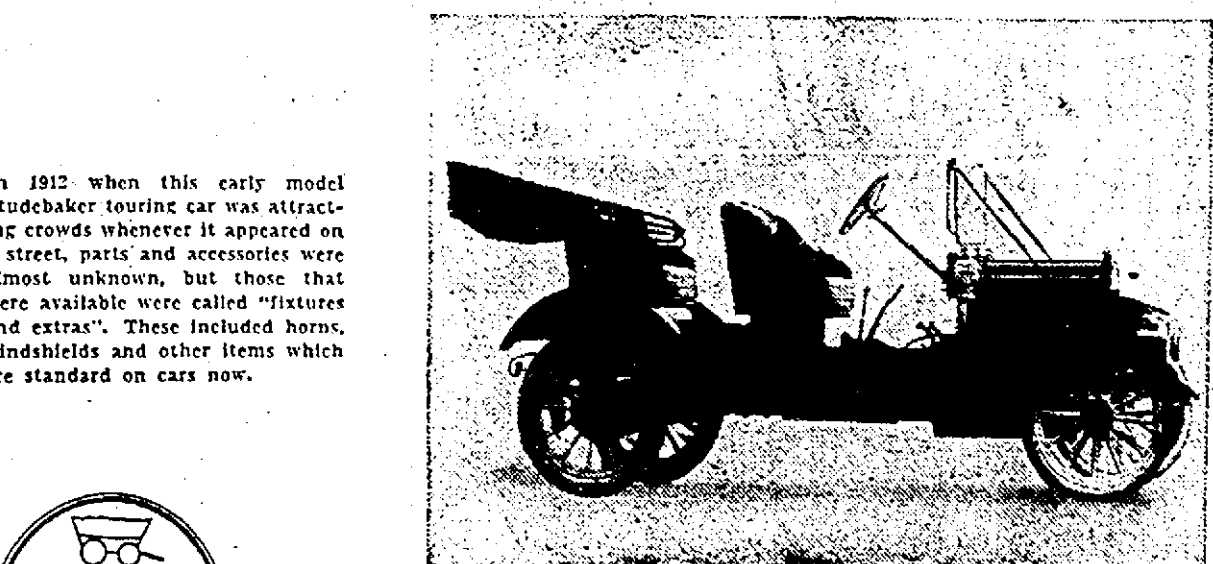

This Conestoga wagon, built by the father of the five Studebaker brothers, is the original Studebaker vehicle and is in the Corporation's museum at South Bend, Ind. Wagons like it, "prairie schooners" for the California "gold rush" of the 1850's were part of the early output of the Studebaker factory.

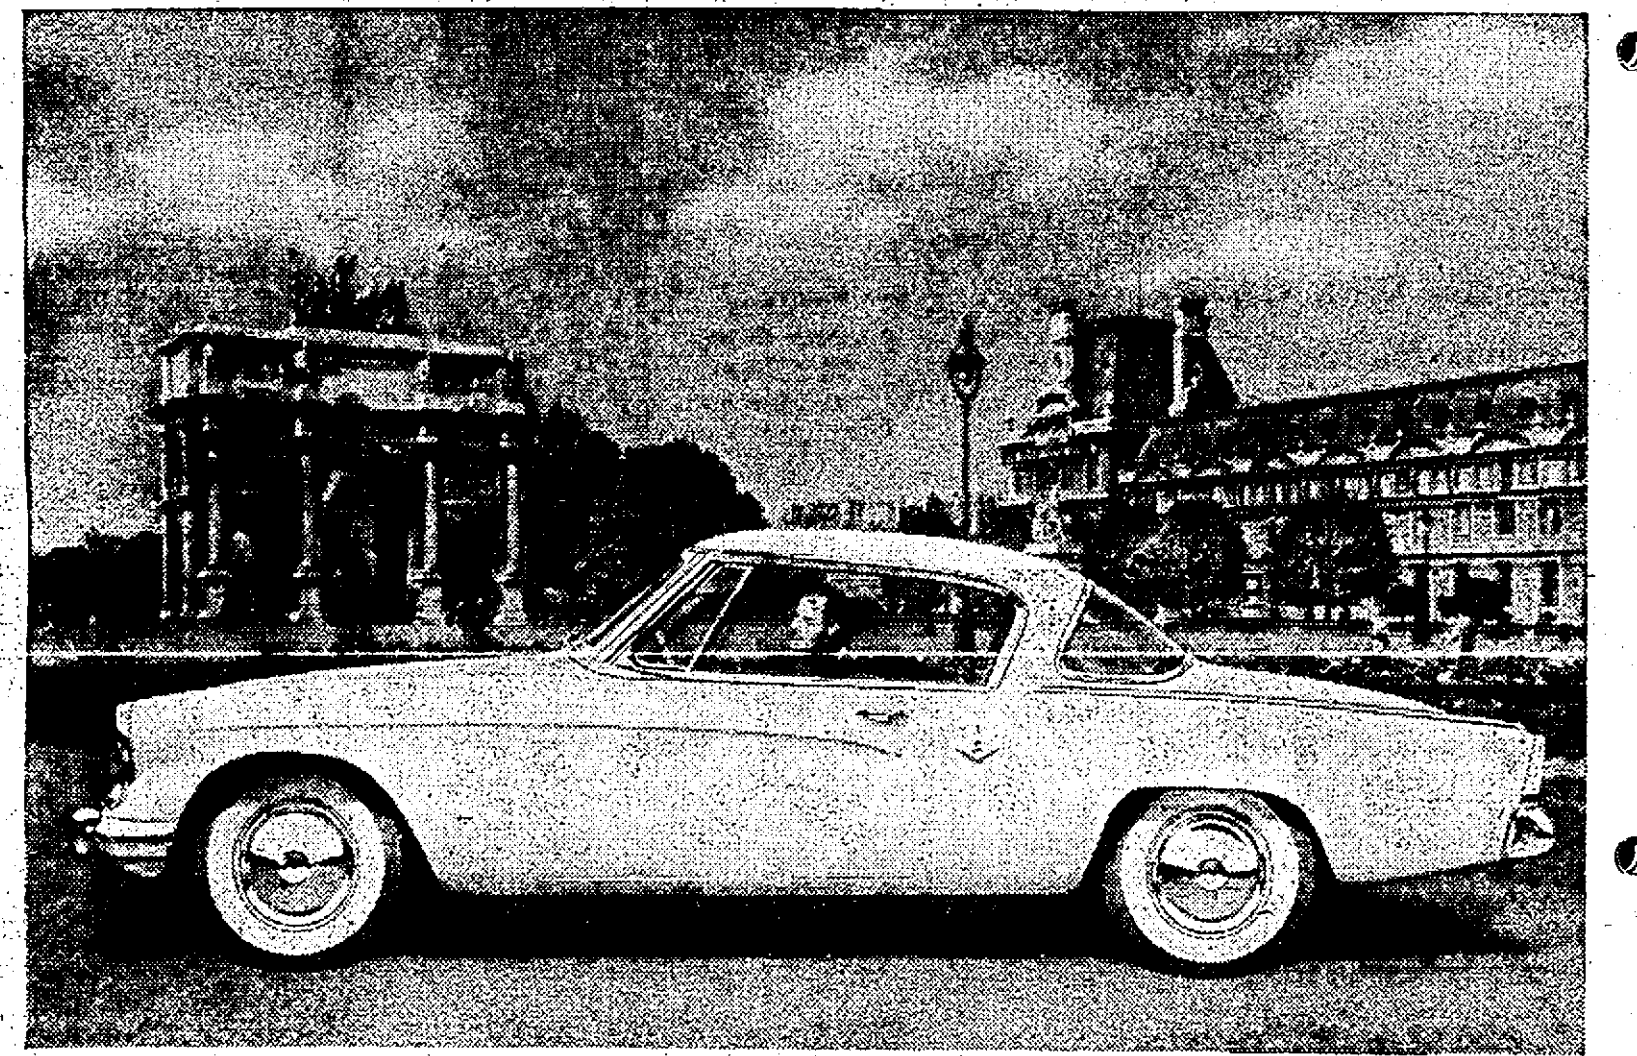

In the days before the automobile, this Studebaker buggy, known as the "Izzer," was helping establish the Studebaker reputation for dependability. It was named the "Izzer" by Peter Studebaker after a farmer scorned a horse praised for its past performance and said: "I don't want a has-been, a 'wuzzer.' What I want is an 'Izzer.'"

This 1902 electric Studebaker's first horseless vehicle, came on the scene when car-builders were still trying out varying types of motive power. Electricity and steam had many advocates—but gasoline was to win out decisively before long. Thomas A. Edison owned an early Studebaker electric.

In 1912 when this early model Studebaker touring car was attracting crowds whenever it appeared on a street, parts and accessories were almost unknown, but those that were available were called "fixtures and extras." These included horns, windshields and other items which are standard on cars now.

A Quick Look at Your Neighbor

By ROBERT REID

A man who has seen about everything in a hospital but the delivery of a baby is Jack K. Eckstrom, borough health board member and medical department employee at Bethlehem-Steel company.

He joined the Navy when the depression hit the country hard in the early thirties. During his six years of Navy life, he attended "about every medical training school the Navy had to offer."

Vivid in his mind is the ghastly sight of the dead when he was sent to the scene of the Hindenburg dirigible wreck in 1936 with a detail from Philadelphia Navy hospital.

"We arrived too late to help the injured," he recalled, "but I'll never forget the awful scene in the hangar at the field. The dead, burned almost beyond recognition, were laid in a row."

The 40-year-old father, of two children was born in Jamestown, N. Y. After the death of his mother, when he was five years old, and the death of his father, when he was only 15, he had to leave high school and shift for himself.

He took a job in an office, but he turned 19 and depression days got tougher, he enlisted in the Navy.

"I learned everything about hospital work the hard way," he said. "Besides attending Navy schools, pharmacist and hospital schools, I was called upon to perform appendectomies, set fractures, assist in amputations, bandage patients and about everything else but deliver a baby."

When he left the Navy as a pharmacist's mate 3/c, Eckstrom went into industry where he has remained ever since. His first job as a civilian was in the dispensary of a New York construction company.

He became associated with Bethlehem Steel company in Bethlehem in 1939, and was transferred to the Pottstown plant in 1941.

During the war he tried to re-enlist in the Navy, feeling that his background would be of value to his country. But after several attempts, he became discouraged when Navy officials told him "you've got an essential job on the home-front that has to be filled."

His interest in civic administration became keener when he was asked to fill an unexpired term on the borough health board.

Reappointed for a second term, Eckstrom observed that he "likes to feel that he's doing something worthwhile in local government."

He also is a first aid counselor on merit badges for the area Boy Scout organizations.

Pottstown High school remembers him as the man who helped keep the boys in condition for football. He assisted in the athletic department there in 1944-45.

He still follows the games and attends every important basketball and football game the High school plays.

"I used to play basketball at high school when it was a lot slower game than it is today," he asserted. "I tried playing basketball in my later years in the Navy, but quit—it was too fast."

The sports enthusiast is a member of Strichter Lodge 254, F and AM, the Tall Cedars of Spring City and the Empire Hook and Ladder Fire company.

He met his wife, Doris, in Philadelphia while he was still in the Navy. They have two children, Jean, 14, and Kenneth, 11. Another member of the household is their airedale, a good-natured dog with a protective bark.

In two tanks in the living-room of his home at 857 Spruce street are tropical fish with which he amuses himself in his spare time.

Boy Scouts Visit Classrooms to Show Pupils Work Done by Various Troops

By BARBARA GEISER

In observance of Boy Scout week, Mr. Ferdinand, our principal, allowed all of the Boy Scouts to visit each classroom and tell the children about the benefits of being a scout.

We learned a great deal about scouting. Some of the boy scouts brought in different things made by their various troops during the past year. Every boy of scouting age in our school is a boy scout.

Our annual spelling bee will be held on the evening of March 4th, in our school auditorium. It will be conducted by our school principal. The semi finals will be held next week.

The winner of the finals will represent our school in the Montgomery county finals on April 10 in the Norristown Senior High school auditorium.

The past week Faye Mohler, a third grade pupil told all of the children of our school the story of Abraham Lincoln's life.

On the same day Phyllis Smith read us Abraham Lincoln's "Gettysburg Address."

Gerald Herrlinger brought in a white mouse.

Richard Rhoads and Kenneth Stroop will attend a boy scout pilgrimage in Valley Forge tomorrow.

Richard Spayd went to Birdsboro.

Barbara Geiser went to Reading Charles Gaugler went to Schwenksville. Gerald Haring went to Boyertown. Dorothy Clemmer also went to Boyertown.

Kenneth Stroop went to Royerford and Stowe. Donald Smoyer went to the mountains. Judith Foley went to Philadelphia. Phyllis Smith went to Boyertown.

A wind tunnel in their Dayton, O., bicycle shop helped the Wright brothers design the first practical airplane.

Safety Patrol Meets, Gets New Orders

By BERNETTA MEST

Yesterday the regular meeting of our school safety patrol was held during our morning recess period.

Charles Gaugler a member of the sixth grade class was elected captain and Virginia Messer was elected lieutenant.

Mr. Ferdinand, our principal, discussed with us the importance of looking both ways before crossing streets. He also instructed every patrol member to be alert on our school playground because of the dangerous conditions arising from the excavation for the new addition to our school.

All patrol members were present.

First Graders Study Weather, Magnets In Science Course

By VIRGINIA MESSER

In Mrs. Wanner's room, the first grade is studying about weather and magnets in science.

The tadpoles that Melvin Fern brought in, at the beginning of the school term, are starting to get legs.

On Friday, Feb. 13, we opened valentine boxes in each room, and the children in Mrs. Wanner's room were very excited.

The following people were mailmen in Mrs. Wanner's room: John Fetterolf, Dennis Foley, Donnell Decker, Joseph Tilliger and Gerald Lupold.

Four children received the most valentines. Herbert Geiser received 11, Sonya Makarivitz received 10, Jane Gross received 9, and Antoinette Sieber received 37.

Ruth Brothworth has a bird. Clifford Bealer has a cat and three fish, and Judith Herrlinger has a new cat.

The following children went away over the weekend or during the week: Carol Ann Dunlap went to Norristown. Herbert Geiser went to Reading. David Boyer went to Philadelphia. Thomas Brant and Gloria Wharton went to

Pupils Hear Lecture About Safety Rules

By GERALD HARING

On Monday officer Kiggins and Jacob Wonderlich of the Pottstown AAA visited our school. They talked about safety.

Then they showed us two movies called "Safety for Small Fry," and "Knock, Knock."

The first movie was about a boy that didn't obey safety rules. The second movie was in technicolor. It was about a funny woodpecker always getting in trouble.

On Friday the 13th we saw a television show about France. There was a boy who told us some French words. They told us how we came to celebrate St. Valentine's Day.

On Feb. 12 Mr. Ferdinand showed us a newsreel. It was about airplanes, a boat, a monkey and two mice. The two mice and the monkey went up in a rocket.

Pupils Are Making Study About Wool

By PHYLLIS SMITH

In Mrs. Firing's Second and Third grades, the pupils are studying about wool. They are learning how we obtain it and what it is used for, also.

They also are making health booklets.

The past Monday the pupils watched a television program called "How Many and How Much?" It was about adding and subtracting tens. This program was from 10:00 to 10:15 a. m.

Burton Smith visited in Boyertown. Kathleen Ludy and Regina Showers visited their grandfathers. Harry Heebner went to Royersford. Laverne Boyer went to Philadelphia.

UN Employes Return Fingerprint Forms

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge, US ambassador to the United Nations, told a Senate Internal Security Subcommittee today that 1606 fingerprint forms have been returned out of 1652 distributed to Americans employed by the UN.

Lodge said the fingerprinting procedure was the first step taken under his direction to weed out possible subversives.

Nearly all the individuals who have not completed their forms, he said, are away from UN headquarters on official travel and military or sick leave.

Lodge said that, to date, no investigation or fingerprint forms have been received from overseas posts.

College Education Money Returned to Three Girls

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 19 (AP)—Three little girls in Weirton, W. Va., had their college education money restored to them today through the honesty of two warehouse employees of a Pittsburgh department store.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Zaveri had cashed $4375 in government bonds away in a bureau drawer. When they traded the bureau in for a new one at Spear and company, they forgot to remove the bonds. Tony Cirra and Joseph Stanislawski found the bonds and returned them. Now Patty, 15, Cyrilla, 12 and Regina, 7, have their college fund intact.

Three Are Injured In Grade School Fire

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 19 (AP)—Fire today destroyed a public grade school and all of its nearly 400 pupils escaped.

At least three persons were injured as the three-story brick structure near the center of New York state's capital city was gutted.

The injured were Principal Charles A. Snyder and school inspector John Shepard, who leaped 20 feet from a window, and fireman John J. Stolz.

Albany hospital attaches said Stolz was struck in the mouth with a pressure hose.

The fire broke out shortly after 2 p. m. Within a short time the interior of the structure was a mass of flame.

All the children fled out in an orderly fashion.

Mercury Registers Extremes During Day

set in 1939 when a 66 mark was reached.

THE DAY remained pleasantly Spring-like until everyone had enjoyed a fair tonic.

But the friendly sun had to go, and a February night took its place. The thermometer took a dip to 50 by 7 p. m., then to 47 an hour later.

Collars were buttoned up again and pedestrians slumped into their winter lean.

At 9 o'clock the mercury read 43 and after a little more than an hour, 40.

By midnight, it was almost freezing again.

Can't Miss Missile Developed by Army

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 (AP)—The Army said today it has guided missiles so good "it is almost impossible for them to miss a target."

In a summary entitled "Army's new guided missiles now roll off the assembly lines," the service declared that:

"The Army now has weapons that aim themselves, after the trigger is pulled, and it is almost impossible for them to miss a target."

"Enemy planes can dive, bank, side slip or turn tail—but the Army's new weapons still will knock them out of the skies."

Preliminary Probe Shows Waste in US Housing

Britain Plans Raise In Defense Spending

LONDON, Feb. 19 (AP)—Britain tonight announced plans to spend $4,585,728,000 in the next budget year to wage the Cold War and prepare for a possible shooting conflict. The British added they hope to get 392 million dollars worth of American defense aid to help defray the cost of the record peacetime outlay.

The 1953-54 program, outlined in a white paper presented in Parliament, reflects an increase of more than one eighth over the 1952-53 defense bill.

The paper stressed that Britain's defense policy is based on "strengthening the defenses of the North Atlantic Treaty area and the whole free world."

52-Year-Old Frozen Man Succumbs in Hospital

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 (AP)—Washington's frozen man died today nearly 24 hours after he was admitted to a hospital with his body temperature reduced to 21.6 degrees below normal by exposure in an alley woodshed.

He was John Brown, 52.

Found in the woodshed after a night of sub-freezing temperatures, his body temperature on admission to Gallinger hospital was 77 degrees Fahrenheit. Normal temperature is 98.6 degrees.

Physicians said it is highly unusual for anyone to survive a reduction in temperature below 80 degrees.

Treaty Gives Sudan Right To Join British Empire

LONDON, Feb. 19 (AP)—Official British sources said today a misunderstanding about the Sudan's right to join the British commonwealth after she achieves independence seems to have been cleared up.

All parties were reported agreed now that the African territory could join if the Sudanese wished.

The sources said interpretation of the new Sudan treaty by both Egypt and Britain was one of the topics broached yesterday in a conference between British Ambassador Sir Ralph Stevenson and Egyptian Premier Gen. Mohamed Naguib in Cairo.
